FLYERS TAKE NEW YORK BY STORM; CROSS BROADWAY WHICH IS SWIRLING POOL OF HUMANITY BIDDING WELCOME

Prince of Wales and
Jack Pershing Head
Big Audience at Min-
eola Field.

GET BIG WELCOME

Mitchell Field, Mineola, N. Y., Sept. 8. (INS.)—The Three round the world flyers, accompanied by an escort of thirteen aeroplanes, arrived here at 3:43 o'clock this afternoon from Boston where they hopped off at noon.

More than five thousand persons were here to welcome them, including his royal highness, the Prince of Wales.

The military band stationed in the grandstand played "The Stars and Stripes forever," as the planes hovered over the dying field preparatory to landing.

New York, Sept. 8. (INS.)—America's round the world flyers came within sight of the Statue of Liberty this afternoon.

They reached New York City at 3:08 p. m.

The three world flight aeroplanes roared into New York from Boston, where they hopped off at noon. The planes soared gracefully over the city accompanied by a squadron of more than a dozen escort planes.

Net a cloud was in the sky as Lieut. Lowell H. Smith and his intrepid cohorts swept over Manhattan. The sun was shining brightly.

From roof tops, windows of tall skyscrapers, ships in the harbor, bridges and other vantage points, thousands of persons watched and cheered the arrival of the fliers.

The fliers came into the city from the northeast. They were on their way to Mitchell Field, Mineola, where preparations had been made for a royal and official welcome, the Prince of Wales and General John J. Pershing being among those expected to greet them at Mineola.

Enroute to Mitchell field they flew over Broadway, most famous of all American streets. Then they crossed the East River to Brooklyn on the way to Mineola.

Chattering and handkerchief waving crowds greeted the fliers all along the route—in Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York State towns.

It is doubtful if the world's fliers ever had such an audience as that which witnessed their arrival in New York. Every vantage point in the Metropolis and its environs was occupied an hour or more before the fliers sped like sparrows into the city.

Work was at a standstill, in most business places when the Twentieth century Magellans finally soared into view.

People in groups of ten to crowds gaped upward. Even street cars and other conveyances stopped. Thousands were perched on buildings. Great crowds were on the ships in the Harbor.

At 3:08 the fliers and their escort of aeroplanes swooped into the environs of New York and headed toward the center of the city—Broadway.

Washington, Sept. 8. (INS.)—America's squadron of "round-the-world flyers" will leave New York for Washington early tomorrow, Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service, notified the War Department today.

Only bad weather or unforeseen events will delay the departure. General Patrick said. He has directed that all arrangements for the reception of the fliers be completed at once by Bowling Field officials.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Turner and daughter Pauline, Mrs. Beatrice Richards and son Chester have returned home after spending a couple of days in Buffalo, N. Y. and Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Graham and son Billy motored to Lock Haven Sunday and spent the day with friends.

Anti-Klanners Of Maine May Put Pattangal, The Democrat, To Victory

Augusta, Maine, Sept. 8. (INS.)—Maine went to the polls today after one of the most heated political campaigns in its history, and as usual, the whole nation watched. It has been said that "as Maine goes, so goes the Nation."

Early reports indicated that the political south-sayers were correct in their predictions that there would be more split ballots cast than ever before and that an unusually heavy vote would be polled.

Although state leaders of both Republican and Democratic parties predicted victory for their tickets, significance was attached to the admission of Republican leaders that Senator Ralph O. Brewster, in his race for governorship, would probably run behind the rest of the Republican ticket.

The Ku Klux Klan reared its shrouded head throughout the campaign and William R. Pattangal, Democratic candidate for Governor has not hesitated to call attention to it. He has repeatedly claimed his opponents supported by the order and Brewster has been content to deny affiliation with the Klan.

Return of U. S. Senator Bert M. Fernald to Washington is generally conceded.

There are several warm contests over the election of Congressmen, Sheriffs and other county officers.

ZR-3 WILL MAKE TRANS-ATLANTIC JOURNEY SEPT. 20

Washington, Sept. 8. (INS.)—The Navy Department today announced September 20th had been agreed upon tentatively as the date for the sailing of the ZR-3, giant airship under construction in Germany for the United States government to the United States.

The date is dependent upon the performance of the ZR-3 in a 35-hour trial flight to take place September 9, the Navy was notified.

STATE POLICE TAKE 14 IN BELLEFONTE RAIDS

Bellefonte, Sept. 8.—Twenty-two prohibition officers made a raid in Bellefonte last night and as a result 14 arrests were made and defendants placed under $1,000 bail each for a hearing Monday afternoon.

Violating the liquor laws was charged in each case. The Moose club was among the places raided, the others being alleged bootlegging agencies. Raiders have two stills and a quantity of liquor as evidence.

A "CLOSE UP" OF "MISS AMERICA", NATION'S MOST BEAUTIFUL BATHING GIRL PERSONIFICATION OF MODESTY

By DAVIS SENTINER

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 8.—Miss America of 1924, 18-year-old Ruth Malcolmson, of Philadelphia, the new "most beautiful bathing girl," is a startling combination of athletic prowess and femininity.

She runs the 50-yard dash in 6 1/2 seconds with her long brown curls flying, plays any position on a baseball team, swims, and is an expert gymnast. She also sings soprano in her church choir.

"I have no rules for beauty except plenty of exercise and going to sleep as early as possible," she said today.

Miss America has sent the following telegram to President Coolidge:

"The crown of honor of being Miss America was bestowed on me in the national beauty tournament in Atlantic City last Saturday night. To be such a worthy of this honor, I will endeavor to live the principles and traditions of a real American life."

Vice President Of Bank Fichera Looted, Falls Dead In Hall At Home

Philadelphia, Sept. 8. (INS.)—Leaving his home today to go to the South Philadelphia State Bank which was closed Saturday by the State Banking Commission, Joseph Gerotti, a vice president of the bank collapsed in the vestibule of his home and died instantly. Heart trouble was ascribed as the cause.

Worry over the closing of the bank which was brought on by the financial difficulties of Edward L. Fichera, a vice president and treasurer of the bank, who has disappeared, is believed responsible for his death.

Shortly after his death it was announced the charter of the financial credit association, whose President Charles W. Stoneback of Coopersburg, Pa., is also President of the closed bank, has been suspended by the division of securities of the State Banking Department. Fichera was also vice president of the financial credit association.

The bank was opened today to permit further probing into the affairs of Fichera. His accounts, it is said, showed he loaned sums of money to "Kitty Zirhut" for "safe supplies," on several occasions. Banking officials claim: "Kitty Zirhut" was his "silent partner." Tho' the full amount paid out has not been disclosed, but it is estimated the total loss to the bank from Fichera's transactions will total about $27,000.

KANE CHILD FALLS IN A TUB OF BOILING HOT WASHING WATER

John Howard, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Eliason, of Kane, died at that place Friday evening as the result of being terribly scalded when he fell into a tub filled with hot water. Mrs. Eliason had filled a foot-bath tub with water and had taken it to the front porch of the home. The little fellow had followed her and as she was removing a porch swing, the little child said: "I will help you mama," and after the swing had been adjusted, stepped backward and fell into the scalding water. Mrs. Eliason immediately stripped the child and applied soothing ointment, pending the arrival of a doctor. Everything possible was done, but the little child died several hours later.

"PINING SQUIRE" IN THE TOILS

Mill Creek, Pa., Sept. 8.—On information of a citizen of his own town, Burgess Foust, of Mill Creek, who holds the dual role of Burgess and justice of the peace, was arrested today, charged with violating the law relative to fining of delinquent automobiles. All of the William Penn highway complaints have come from what is known as the Mill Creek speed trap and which has been maintained by Burgess Foust with the aid of two watchful officers stationed at either end of the alleged speed trap. Burgess Foust is specifically charged with collecting fines and dividing them with his two officers and keeping no record of the number of fines.

CHINA ON VERGE OF BLOODIEST CIVIL WAR IN HISTORY

Contending Armies Battle for Rich Shanghai Port; Manchurian Gov. Fights Central Powers.

BOTH WOULD RULE

By BERT KUHN

Shanghai, China, Sept. 8.—China appeared today to be verging on the bloodiest civil war in history. While the Chekiang-Kiangsu armies are engaged in sanguinary conflict for the possession of the rich seaport of Shanghai, Chiang Tso Lin, Tschu (military Governor) of Manchuria has declared war on the Central Government at Peking. Early reports indicate that every province in the nation will be involved.

The central Government in Peking has shown its hand in the Chekiang-Kiangsu war by issuing a mandate outlawing the military Governor of Chekiang and making the military Governor of Kiangsu the head of a military expedition against the Chekiang troops in issuing this mandate. President Tsao Kun declared General Lu Yung Kiang, Governor of Chekiang a traitor to the nation.

By so doing Tsao saved his face, asserting that the leading militarists, including General Wu Pei-Fu and the Christian general Feng Yu-Hsiang, demanded the order.

In allying himself with the Chekiang forces, War Lord Chang Tso Lin, of Manchuria, makes an outright declaration of war on Peking in a circular telegram to all the provinces, converting the sporadic Shanghai outbreak into a national war and achieving an alliance which was started but was not completed two years ago, when Chong first marched at the head of his troops against the province of Chi-Li.

Simultaneously it was announced from Peking that a punitive mandate has been issued against the Chekiang armies, indicating that President Tsao Kun and General Wu Pei-Fu are determined to take up the gauntlet thrown down by the Manchurian war lord from Mukden. General Chang's telegram to the various Tschuans, bitterly denounces Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-Fu, declaring: "With mind perverted they are more than ever bent on showing their ferocious fangs. Not only have they shown no sympathy with the provinces afflicted by floods, but they are allocating unaffected provinces by military calamity."

The telegram emphasizes the efforts made by the Mukden war lord to mediate in the civil war and places (Continued on Page Seven.)

County Bee Keepers To Meet Here On Thursday In Annual Convention

The Annual Meeting of the Clearfield County Bee Keepers Association will be held in the Farm Bureau Office, Thursday, Sept. 11th, at 9:00 a. m. Professor Phillips, of State College, will be present and address the gathering of bee keepers on the current subjects of the day relating to bee keeping. Election of officers will take place.

It is hoped that a large number will be able to attend this meeting, as some very important matters face the local bee keepers at the present time. Clearfield County stands second in the State in the production of honey, and for this reason should have a strong organization. Each member should make a point to see that all the bee keepers in this community are advised of the meeting, as everyone interested in bee keeping is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

AN UNUSUAL FAMILY

Chicago, Sept. 8. (INS.)—Funeral services will be held this afternoon for Rabbi Solomon Miles, Chicago's oldest citizen, who died here yesterday at the age of 107 years. Miles leaves his widow, aged 90, five sons, three daughters, 22 grand children and five great grand children. His oldest son, Morris, 72, is employed by his youngest son, Peter, 42.

ELUSIVE BOY FROM RIDGWAY SEEN BUT CANNOT BE FOUND

Albert Johnson, the "boy of mystery," who left his home in Ridgway last June, is heard from at different times, but no one seems to close in on him sufficiently to bring him into custody and restore him to his home. John Johnson has been seen at St. Marys, Emporium and Port Allegany, but his father, who is on his trail, has not yet succeeded in catching up to him.

For the last two months his absence from his home here, has been broadcast, but it appears that still most of the populace in the vicinity where the boy evidently plans to hibernate state their ignorance of the fact. They report seeing him when questioned but fail to grab him when they have the opportunity. There is a fifty dollar reward for his capture, which the boy's father will pay and this should be some inducement to anyone who can get in touch with him.

The lad appears to be under a false impression thinking that it is the authorities that are looking for him; but such is not the case. No harm will come to him if he would give himself up and his parents would give him a hearty welcome back to his home.

Fire Does Considerable Damage In Press Room Of The North American

Philadelphia, Sept. 8. (INS.)—Five persons were injured, one seriously, early today when fire did considerable damage to the press room of the North American newspaper plant. Bernard Chadwick, a hose man, suffered internal injuries and possibly a fractured skull when he fell 35 feet from a ladder. Three other firemen and an employee were overcome by smoke but were revived. The loss was undetermined. The paper will not be forced to suspend publication.

Rev. Horace Lincoln Jacobs has been invited to deliver the formal address at the opening of the new Masonic temple in Lock Haven, Pa., one of the most complete and elaborately equipped and furnished Masonic structures in the eastern part of the United States. The event is in charge of the LaFayette Lodge, and will be largely attended.

NEED FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION IN THE CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA SOFT COAL INDUSTRY SAYS PUNXSUTAWNEY SPIRIT

In an article headed "Need for Immediate Action in Central Pennsylvania Soft Coal Situation Is Now Imperative," the Punxsutawney Spirit went right down to the meat of the proposition now confronting all of the people of the Central Pennsylvania Coal fields. The article, which we reprint herewith, is well worth reading, as it has the situation sized up exactly regardless of where your sympathies lie.

"The declaration of the officials of the R. & P. Coal & Iron Company some weeks ago that the towns of Adrian, Elanora and Helvetia would be closed is being carried out much to the regret of the inhabitants of these communities, says the Sykesville Post-Dispatch. In Elanora the company store stock has been removed and the big store building is being torn down for removal to a new mining town of the company. The company houses have been ordered vacated.

In Helvetia the company store has been closed, but not until the stock of merchandise had been removed to other stores of the company. The store force was dismissed last Saturday.

Practically the same condition exists in Adrian as in Helvetia and the plight of the families in the company blocks may easily be imagined. Company officials maintain that the towns in these towns are old operations and cannot be operated at any thing but a distinct loss under present prices of mining. These towns have been among Punxsutawney's best feeders and every man, woman and child in this section is directly concerned in the company's action. If, as the operators in general main-

GRAND JURY RECOMMENDS CRIMINAL ACTION BE TAKEN IF SCREENS ARE NOT PLACED ON REAR JAIL WINDOWS

Clearfield Hi's Captain

"Bob" Wilson, the unanimous selection of the 1923 letter men to pilot this season's 11-sailed craft to the "top of the scholastic heap."

Wilson's election to the dominating position came after two seasons of sterling work had stamped him as an unusual player with much ability as a leader. Last season "Bob" did all the punting for the local eleven and gained no little praise for his ability to propel long spirals that greatly helped his team. On frequent occasions he was on the passing or receiving ends of passes that netted large gains.

In practice this year Bob has been proving an aggressive leader in all workouts, kicking and passing in good form, and when the active work starts he is expected to come thru in fine style with a "Caesar."

Cites Fact That Every
Grand Jury for Several
Years Had Made Same
Recommendation.

DEMAND ACTION

Strange as it may seem, and it is indeed more than passing strange in view of all that has gone before, the September Grand Jury, which today concluded its labors late Saturday last, found the Clearfield county jail still without those long sought wire screens on the rear windows of the jail. Emulating the many grand juries before and since the escape of Harry Hinsey, the convicted Madern murderer, away back in the early years of Sheriff Gorman's term, this grand jury again and once more recommends the placing of these screens as an act of ordinary precaution against the smuggling of contraband goods and tools into the jail. They call attention to the fact of the non-compliance by the County Commissioners with the recommendation of the previous Grand Juries in regard to the placing of these screens, but go a step farther by adding the following to their recommendation, which will undoubtedly get the action so long desired by the good people of Clearfield county:

"For several years Grand Juries have repeatedly recommended that these screens be placed, but nothing has been done. We again recommend that this be done and because the present condition is dangerous and likely to cause escapes from jail, we recommend that the Court and District Attorney cause criminal action to be instituted before the next Grand Jury, if these screens are not immediately obtained, or satisfactory efforts to procure the same have been made."

The report further says the jail is in excellent condition, likewise the County House, but the Court House pretty well run down and in disrepair. The complete report follows:

"To the Hon. A. R. Chase, President Judge of Clearfield county, The Grand Jury convened for September Sessions, 1924, respectfully report:

The District Attorney presented to us ninety three bills of indictment, of which ninety were found true bills, and three were ignored.

We inspected the Court House, County Home and Jail. The general condition of the buildings is good.

We commend the repairs made to the Grand Jury room. We recommend that new chairs and table be got for the Traverse Jury room.

The ceiling of the Arbitration room is in bad condition and we recommend that it be repaired; and that some other place be obtained for the storage of ballot boxes and large packages of papers, and that the litter in said room be removed.

We recommend that more shelves be placed in vault of Treasurer's Office. We recommend that more vault room, as was recommended by former Grand Juries, be obtained for the Registrar and Recorder.

We commend the Steward and Matron of the County House because of the general good conditions there (Continued on Page Three)

WILL YOU HELP THIS BOY?

One of my former pupils, an orphan, who has obtained the age of sixteen years and has passed eighth grade on very creditable marks, much desires to go to High School but has no money or way to go.

Is there a man or woman in Clearfield County who will lend this promising lad a helping hand before High School begins? He is willing to do anything reasonable to work his way through school. He does not know where to find an opening. Will you lend pleading for help. Who will be his benefactor?

meet with the operators and thresh out the problem. If the operators can conclusively show these officials that a lower wage scale means more money for the miner and increased prosperity for this section, it is the duty of these officials to make every effort in their power to see that the desired condition is brought about.

It doesn't take a mathematician to figure out that the man who works for $5 a day and works six days a week, has it all over the individual who works for $20 a day, and works but one day a month.

Coal consumption, according to government figures, is close to normal. The situation calls for action and the public has a right to demand it. The operators and the miners' officials cannot bring prosperity by airing their opinions as to the cause of conditions in this field thru lengthy newspaper articles. Only through conference, concessions and the exercise of good common sense can anything be accomplished. Something is wrong. It leaves the operators and the miners to meet in common conference, and out precisely what that trouble is, and remedy it. Contracts that cannot be altered when the terms of the contract work hardship upon all parties concerned belong to other ages than this.

Demand for coal is certain to increase as winter approaches and if the thermometer today is to be believed, it is close at hand. The Central Pennsylvania operator and the Central Pennsylvania miner cannot allow that business to be concentrated in other fields.

McGANNON-BENNETT

Miss Mary McGannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McGannon, of West Long avenue, and Orville Bennett, of Clearfield, were quietly married in the parsonage of St. Cecilia's church Saturday evening, August 9th, by the Rev. M. J. Bennett. They were accompanied by Miss Elvira Allen and William B. S. Watt.

Miss McGannon is a well known young lady of the city, a graduate of the DuBois Business College and has been an employee of the P. R. & E. for the past year. They will make their future home in Clearfield where the groom holds a responsible position.—DuBois Courier.

Local People Hurt When Bumped By Another Car Near Village Of Bigler

Mrs. Francis McGoe and her sister, Miss Carrie Mitchell, of Walnut street, were quite painfully bruised about the head and body Saturday evening last when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by an Essex car being driven by Joe Lorbecki, of Houtdale. The accident occurred shortly after 9 o'clock at the curve on the Clearfield-Philipsburg state road opposite the Bigler brick works.

Mr. and Mrs. McGoe, accompanied by Miss Mitchell and J. S. Gaulin, in their Buick sedan, were traveling toward Philipsburg. As they approached the point, mentioned a Ford car from Philipsburg shot around the curve ahead of them. Traffic Patrol enforcing the law as to speeding happened to be working at this point and gave the Ford driver the "high sign" to stop. He did so quickly and the Essex traveling at least 35 miles an hour and closely following the Ford, swung out to run around the Ford. The McGoe car was in the act of going by the Ford at the time and the Essex banged right into it, badly wrecking both cars. Mrs. McGoe's head was jammed through the windshield and she was also bruised about the knee and the ankle, while her sister received bruises about the head and lower limbs, but fortunately neither was seriously hurt.

The Essex car was occupied by Lorbecki and a friend and two girls from Osceola and they also escaped with minor injuries.

The damaged cars were towed to the Bigler garage nearby and repairs made yesterday. Lorbecki paid the bill, he being to blame for the wreck.

DAVIS ASKS WEST WHAT THEY WANT; HAS NO PROGRAM

Denver, Colo., Sept. 8.—John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential nominee, reached here today to study at first hand the problems of the mountain west before offering to the nation his personal program on conservation and reclamation.

Davis greeted the far West with a demand for a "bloodless" government serving all citizens equally and a declaration that "he would continue to make honesty in government" his paramount issue.

"I came here more to learn than to teach," Davis said. "I want to mingle with the people of the West, and out their problems and inform myself about the things they expect from their government. If it becomes the pleasure of the people to make me their President, I hope to be the servant not of any section or class but the servant of all the people."

"What we need in this country is a government that is honest from the ground up and that is not directed in the interests of any part of the United States. This government has been dominated for fifty years past with the exception of certain Democratic administrations, by an industrial bloc that has managed the policies of the nation in its own peculiar interest. I want the day to come when no bloc will control this government and when it will be run in the interests of us all alike."

"That is my ideal and that is the proposal I have to make to my fellow countrymen in this election."

A large crowd greeted the nominee as his special train arrived from Lincoln, Nebraska, where he spent Sunday as the guest of Charles W. Bryan, his running mate. A reception committee headed by Governor William F.

Sweet and Senator Alva A. Adams escorted him to a temporary hotel headquarters. Davis spent the forenoon conferring with Democratic leaders from the mountain states. He was to leave this afternoon for Rocky Mountain National Park—60 miles north of here—to spend two days in seclusion, writing the set speeches to be delivered in the Denver auditorium on the night of September 11, and at Cheyenne, Wyo., on September 12.

Mrs. W. A. Sencer, Mrs. H. Rasdorf, Mrs. H. Adams, Mrs. H. Rasdorf, Mrs. Bertram Barnes, and Mrs. K. Fuller were hostesses at the semi-monthly luncheon of the Junior Social Club held at Blue Knob last Friday evening. Cards and dancing were the main features of the evening, music being furnished by a well-known orchestra. At a late hour a dainty repast was served. There were 80 present, including a party of eighteen from DuBois.

Mrs. J. M. McCracken, son and daughter, Mrs. L. J. Ritchey, son and daughter, motored to Blue Knob, Blair county, where they attended the Deal and Ritchey reunion. They motored from Blue Knob to Nant-y-Glo, where they visited Mr. McCracken's brother, who is seriously ill at his daughter's home.

More Milk Means Better Health

Milk contains every diet-essential your body needs for better health. Not only does milk contain everything for the baby and the growing youngster, but it also contains every vital food element for adult bodies necessary to repair the waste that is going on every day.

There are the proteins for energy, the carbohydrates for heat and fuel, the minerals to repair bone, the vitamins which you hear so much about, the preventative vitamins which ward off certain diseases everything which your body requires for its carrying on.

You may not be able to drink milk as a beverage. Then, have it used more freely in the preparation of your other foods. Eat more custards, use milk in the making of other dishes—but be sure you use enough in this way to get at least a quart a day for children and a pint for adults.

Do this for a month and see how much better you look and, what's more important, how much better you feel.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Changing the number of months in the year from twelve to thirteen of twenty-eight days each, and making the extra day a holiday, is one of the important steps to be considered at the meeting of the International Geometric and Geophysical Union, which will be held soon in Madrid. So declared Dr. Henry J. Cox, senior meteorologist and district forecaster for the United States Weather Bureau at Chicago, just before he sailed for Europe last week.

The question, Dr. Cox said, will be taken up by the Astronomical Division of the conference. If the plan favored by the scientists is adopted, the months will be four weeks each, the first will always fall on Sunday, while Saturdays will always conclude the week, falling on the 7th, 14th, 21st and 28th. The extra day which comes each year will be regarded as a floating day, but will be called "New Year's Eve."

A strong advocate of this change is Prof. Charles F. Marvin, head of the United States Weather Bureau. It also has the tentative approval of the Catholic and Episcopal churches, said Dr. Cox, who added that the change will not only not interfere with church calendars but will make for a permanent Easter.

Since the last congress of the descendants of the Mayflower Pilgrims three years ago, their organization has increased by 910. Its membership now 5,077, grows rapidly in the West so that a Chicago meeting is suggested.

Only half of the 102 Mayflower Pilgrims survived the first winter, some of them too old to hope for New World progeny. But of the remainder a single one, counting only two children to the family and three generations to the century, might furnish unassailable qualifications to more than 500 potential present-day members. In fact, considering the early marriages and large families of the colonial adventurers, the possibilities far surpass such modest totals.

There must be in the country tens of thousands of people indubitably qualified to sit with the Plymouth conferees, yet unaware of the fact. They will not remain unaware. Family trees are interesting more and more American women yearly. It is in vain for the Pilgrim descendants, if they wish to keep their organization exclusive, to discuss stricter rules of admission. Their troubles do not arise from lax admissions but from the unfavorable law of geometrical progression.

Only 20 per cent of the people of the United States are "tooth conscious" and only about 60,000 dentists administer to the 110,000,000 population, it was said by G. Layton Grier of Cleveland, President of the Dental Trades Association, in convention at the Hotel Ambassador in Atlantic City recently.

"Until the other 80 per cent of Americans become 'tooth conscious'—that is, clean their teeth—we will not have a really healthy country," he said.

The modest set of men in Clearfield these evenings just as soon as early twilight descends on the Bennett's Branch valley, and it comes pretty early these September evenings. Here is the "how and the why" of it, according to a Huston township man, who unburdened himself in our hearing while attending court last week:

Some 25 years ago, the Low Grade Branch of the Pennsylvania railroad running between Red Bank and Driftwood, put on an evening passenger train which carried mail and arrived at Penfield about 7:30 p. m.

Whether the Government required it or no, we don't know, but the postmaster at that time, who was the late H. H. Lowell, father of Sheriff Lowell, and all postmasters since his time have kept the office open evenings for delivery of mail from this train, which was often late. This furnished a place for the public to meet and discuss current events. Many husbands often amused themselves at other places, telling their wives when they got home that the evening mail train was late and that they stayed up for it.

Some angry wife apparently took the matter up with Uncle Sam and reported that the lobby of the post office was being used for a loafing place and that some effort should be made to stop it, even if they had to remove the present postmaster. An inspector was sent out to inquire into and make recommendation for the adjustment of the trouble at this place. He told some of the angry wives that the lobby of the post office was public property and that anyone who was orderly and well-behaved could loaf there all day, but in order to help them out would recommend that the post office be closed at 6:00 p. m.

This recommendation he made, and was forwarded to Washington with the result that the order was issued for the closing of the office at 6:00 p. m., and now the prowling husbands have to find another alibi for staying out late.

NUMETAL WEATHERSTRIP

Keeps Out

The Cold

Because of its peculiar construction, NUMETAL WEATHERSTRIP keeps out the cold that usually creeps in around the doors and windows during the cold snaps that are ahead.

If you are living in an old house, you need NUMETAL to keep the cracks in the door and window frames filled. If you live in your own new home, or are about to move into it, you should have NUMETAL installed now.

Let us show you how little it will cost to have NUMETAL installed.

BONUS APPLICATIONS

There has been no such rush to file army bonus applications as was expected. One large city reports that of 56,000 service men only 17,000 applications have been distributed by the headquarters maintained by the American Legion for that purpose, and it is not believed that more than 15,000 have filed their applications. Other cities report varying degrees of indifference on the part of the veterans.

It may be that the nature of this particular plan for "adjusted compensation" is less popular with the service men than other plans that failed of enactment. Life insurance, even when furnished without expense, is not necessarily a subject arousing enthusiasm, as many an insurance agent will testify. Still, it is surprising that there is not greater readiness on the part of the beneficiaries to take advantage of it. Though it may mean little to them directly, they, of all men, should have a realization of the uncertainty of life and the desirability of leaving an assured amount of liquid property for their families.

THE SEVEN FUNDAMENTALS

The ideas of most people in regard to the modernist-fundamentalist controversy in the churches seem very hazy. They have a notion that the modernists incline to believe in creation by evolution, while the fundamentalists hold fast to separate acts of a personal deity. Beyond that, all is vague. The clear statement by Bishop William Montgomery Brown of the whole matter in seven succinct propositions is therefore welcome.

Bishop Brown, it will be remembered, was tried and convicted of heresy a few months ago by the House of Bishops of the Episcopal Church. In order to avoid the further trouble which a trial on appeal might cause, he offers to withdraw his books and resign his ministry if a majority of the bishops will affirm their belief in the seven propositions as he has stated them.

How the affair will be finally decided, and which side is right, are not matters for a newspaper to make any attempt to decide. The interest for the reader lies in the propositions themselves. Here they are:

"God is an objective, conscious, personal reality, existing independently of all other realities.

"God made out of nothing heaven and earth and all that is in them.

"Man's existence was brought about by direct creative acts of God, not by evolution from lower forms of life.

"The world owes all its death and suffering to the disobedience of Adam, and this fatal fall was due to Eve, who was persuaded to eat of the forbidden fruit by a serpent.

"All men must rely on the atoning death of Christ, an objective, conscious, personal being, for salvation from sin, and those who do not for that reason will suffer.

"Christ rose bodily from death and so ascended into Heaven above the earth, where he now sits on the right hand of God.

"The bodies of all dead men, women and children will at some time be physically resurrected."

If one affirms these propositions "to be so many literal—not spiritual or mystical—truths", he is, apparently, a fundamentalist. If he doubts any of them, he leans toward modernism. It will be interesting to study them a bit and find out where one stands.

BIGGEST IN THE WORLD

By FLORENCE DAVIES

Not long ago a famous painting by the great master, Rubens, was put up at auction at Christie's in London and failed to find a bid. And yet Rubens is one of the great names in the world of art, ranking with the greatest masters of all time.

Pictures by Rubens have sold for more than a hundred thousand dollars. Yet this picture was returned to the palace of the Duke of Westminster from whence it came, not a single bid having been offered for it.

The reason was very simple. The picture was too big. It was of mammoth size, and the day when the bigger picture the greater its importance is past. Nobody wanted it, not even a museum, because, nobody had a suitable place to put it.

In other words, we no longer buy art by the yard. Size alone is not impressive. It is quality that counts.

Perhaps this is a good omen. If the art world has waked up to the fact that "big" doesn't necessarily mean "great," perhaps the rest of the world will soon learn that, too.

Summer tourists just home from a visit to Detroit, told tales of bigness found in that city. In fact, its a tale of size that they tell in almost all our great cities. In Detroit, the travelers heard the phrase "biggest in the world," so often that it almost came to be a joke. Biggest office building in the world, biggest factory in the world, biggest newspaper plant in the world, biggest apartment house in the world, were the claims they heard. As it happens, each of these institutions is great and fine as well as merely big. The office building was designed by a great architect, the factory, as everyone who has heard the name of Henry Ford knows, is superlatively efficient as well as big, the newspaper plant is beautiful as well as merely large. That makes them all worth while, not the mere fact of their size, which the Detroiters seem to talk most about.

Not how big but how fine, how truly great, how beautiful how worth while—that is the standard this new age of bigness must set for itself.

But it is an age when size deceives us. So many people are fairly killing themselves to get bigger fortunes, when a finer use of what they have is the real success. Bigger houses are not necessarily better than little ones which have found the secret of home. Bigger churches are fine to brag about, but the spirit of Christ may not brood there, as it may where two or three are gathered together, and bigger schools make a fine showing, in the town, but the little school or college where the teacher knows each pupil may be much greater.

The art world has passed up the giant pictures. They look for greatness in something else beside size. It is a happy warning, and one that we moderns need. A good many really fine undertakings have been killed by mere bigness. A small home well kept, a little club that means something to every member, a little church with a fine spirit, these are the things worth working for.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES

Yesterday at the hour of the morning service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered, and all who partook of the elements were again able to renew their allegiance to Him. The Sabbath school session and the Young People's meetings were well attended, and showed keen interest on the part of everyone. The evening message was brought to us by Dr. Reevs from the 48th Psalm, 14th verse. "For this God is our God forever and ever: He will be our even unto death." The numbers sung by the choir at each service added much to the blessing of the service.

Meetings For the Week

Wednesday evening the mid-week prayer and praise service at the usual hour invites everyone to join in it. Thursday evening the weekly prayer services at the Reedsville church will be resumed. Every one out of 7-30 and learn the plans for the coming year. We need your support.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rollin and family, who have been visiting relatives in this section for some time, returned to their home in Akron, Ohio, on Saturday.

In the Courts

A jury in Judge Heck's court returned a verdict on Saturday evening in which they allowed Jack Wise $100 damages for false arrest. The arrest was made by Officer Woodridge at the instigation of J. W. Chase on 12 o'clock on the night of January 12, 1924, and Wise was held in the borough lockup for ten hours. The defendants were assessed $50 each.

The second week of September term of civil court opened this morning. Judge Heck will again assist Judge Chase this week, and will hear those cases scheduled for trial in which Judge Chase was interested as counsel before being elevated to the bench.

Two Killed In Explosion At The Eclipse Oil Works Today At Franklin, Pa.

Franklin, Pa., Sept. 8 (INS).—At least two men were killed, six were injured and probably others were seriously burned when an explosion of unknown origin shook the Eclipse Oil Works this today. The entire working force of 300 men employed at the stills were fighting the flames this afternoon, and newspaper men sent to the scene were ordered back.

Swartz and Witherup were the dead men's names. Efforts to get Witherup's body so far have been unavailing, and it is believed the body of a third victim is also behind the barrier of flames.

The injured men are in a hospital and emergency preparations have been ordered to care for others. The blaze is one of the worst oil fires which has ever visited this vicinity in recent years.

The bottom fell out of one of the stills at No. 5 plant sending flaming oil all over the scene and men had to run for their lives. Three tanks and the entire No. 5 plant were burning early this afternoon and special calls were sent out for huge blankets to help check the spread of the flames.

PENNSY-GRAMS

Selinagrove, Pa., Sept. 6. (INS.)—Charles E. Covert, of Harrisburg, former publisher of the "Temple," Harrisburg, and one of the leading construction engineers in Pennsylvania, died at his summer home here today. He had been in failing health for several months.

Covert, besides being a 3rd degree Mason, was one of the most widely known business men in the state.

Pittsburgh.—After a day's search, the body of John McClinton, 12, was found hanging from a tree in Penn township today. Police declared the boy evidently had hanged himself, but his parents could ascribe no motive for the suicide. A schoolmate of the boy said he had been acting in a peculiar manner since his head had been injured in a football game several days ago.

Pittsburgh.—Authorities are today still searching for Pauline Newman, 16, who left her home here more than a week ago. Relatives say the girl left a nervous breakdown several months ago and may be wandering near Pittsburgh suffering with amnesia. Police believe, however, Miss Newman is at a summer resort, because when she disappeared she took an evening gown and a bathing suit with her.

Pittsburgh.—The number of dead as the result of the gasoline tank explosion at the People's Gas Company here August 29, was increased to 11, with the death of Dominic Tripiano, 19, an employee of the company, who died yesterday at the Mercy hospital here from burns about the body.

New Castle.—The women of the Republican county committee will have for their guests at a luncheon here Sept. 19, Mrs. Cornelia Bryce Pinchot, wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania, it was announced here.

Philadelphia.—While her parents looked on, 4-year-old Katherine Trainer was killed by an automobile yesterday when she tried to pull her cousin Wm. Garrison, also 4, from its path. The boy was picking up a bag of candy in the street when the car approached. The girl tried to push him to safety but both were struck. The boy escaped serious injury.

Philadelphia.—No trace has been found of Edward A. Fichera, former President of the Philadelphia Title and Trust Company, who disappeared Friday just before the bank was ordered closed as the result of a serious shortage disclosed in its accounts. Relatives of Fichera fear he may have committed suicide. The loss to the bank through his alleged misappropriation of funds is now set at about $27,000.

Philadelphia.—Two persons died as the result of drinking poisoned rum over the weekend and nearly 50 others were treated at hospitals. One of the victims was Mrs. Fannie Sylvestre, colored.

Philadelphia.—Two Philadelphians died last night when their automobile left the Black Horse Pike bridge, N. J., and crashed into a river. Four other occupants of the car were injured. The victims were James Gallagher, 28, and Thomas Conkle, 27. Police say the car was stolen Saturday night from a Philadelphia garage.

'TIS SUGAR, NOT SAND, THAT MAKES COURAGE, SO SAY THE BOTTLERS WHO MAKE SODA FOR THIRSTY TO DRINK

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—The time-honored usage of "sand" as a synonym of courage is all wrong—'tis sugar that makes heroes.

To be called a "sweet thing" is a compliment rather than a term of derision to excite masculine resentment, scientists now tell us. For the sweetest are the bravest, they say, or words to that effect. Anyway they are quite certain, and have proved by tests, that it is the amount of sugar in your blood that makes the measure of your courage. And here's the reason as told to the American Chemical Society by Dr. Edwin E. Slosson, of Washington, D. C., a noted scientist:

"A variation of a few hundredths of one per cent in the glucose of the blood may make the difference between cowardice and courage, may determine whether a man shall be shot as a slacker or medaled as a hero. Courage is not a matter of 'sand,' but of sugar. In the excitement of combat the secretion of adrenalin is stimulated and this causes more sugar to be released to the blood and so strengthens a man's valor and endows him with greater strength."

And the synonym for fear? 'Tis "insulin." Dr. Slosson declares that diabetic patients taking insulin tell him the first effect of an overdose is "the feeling of a formless fear, a vague apprehension, a sense of futility and failure, a shiver of anxiety." Their courage, he says, can be quickly restored by food containing sugar, such as bottled carbonated beverages. Speaking of bottled carbonated beverages, which have high sugar content in the most easily assimilated form, Dr. Slosson says:

"The food value of these beverages comes from their sugar content. The ordinary half-pint bottle contains usually about 4 to 9 of an ounce of sugar, about two heaped teaspoonsful per drink. This gives between 43 and 103 calories of energy, generally about 70 to 80 calories per half-pint."

Besides the water and sugar you get with every pint some three pints of carbon dioxide gas—if you drink it quickly enough. The expansion of this also cools you off.

"The nutritive value of the soft drinks is higher than that of most fruits and vegetables for the same weight. Soda water has about the same energy food value as buttermilk and three times as much as water-melon."

So there we have the passing of another popular fallacy which held the consumption of soft drinks as evidence of pusillanimity. If you feel your courage ebbing you know the cause and the remedy is obvious.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

LONDON'S IDEA OF LEGION BASEBALL

A recent baseball game played by members of the London post of the American Legion brought forth the following comment in the London Daily Herald:

"That the American Legion should have chosen the Chicago football ground for their baseball rendezvous reflects their sense of propriety. The game should be called 'glorified rounders.' One cannot wonder why the adjectives 'ferocious' and 'brawny' are so popular in the American vocabulary after witnessing a ball game."

"To the uninitiated the most unfortunate man on the field seems to be the club-swinger. He goes in carrying a club not unlike a pick handle. No sooner has he taken up his position than the 'catcher' behind him, feeling comparatively safe in a mask and breast-protector, tells him what a bloody, decomposed player he is, and the 'pitcher' who delivers the ball, being well out of reach of the club, keeps up a continual stream of unkind remarks, at the same time executing a kind of war dance, and ends by slugging the ball at the club-swinger as hard as he can throw it."

"Then the spectators join in. Should the club-swinger slug the ball out of the grounds and run round the three bases, all his sins are forgiven and he is a 'sure-go-getter,' but should he miss the ball altogether he is a 'wall-eyed mutt,' and advised to borrow a door or get a pair of 'horn-rims.' This unfortunate club-swinger has many ways of escape. He can be thrown out, run out, caught stealing or talked out. Many times the 'pitcher' tries to knock him out by hitting him with the ball."

"The 'top-notch' club-swingers in America are reported to draw salaries equaling those of English cabinet ministers. This may be due to the cost of life insurance premiums."

Trust Fund to Care for Legionnaires When Old

Against the day of forgetfulness, the American Legion of Minneapolis is making preparation. Against the time when the Legionnaires are old and few and intervening years and events have crowded out of the public mind the service of 1917-18, the Hennepin county central committee is proposing to set up a $300,000 trust fund. For the aged Legionnaires of the future who may have suffered "the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune" and must turn to a new Minneapolis that does not know them, the young Legionnaires of today propose to make their $18,000 Poppy day trust fund, a nucleus of a much greater foundation.

IOWA LEGION MAN DRAWS PROMOTION

Outstanding work as commander of Monahan post of the American Legion at Sioux City, Iowa, in 1923, when that post shattered all membership records and became the second largest post in the world, won for Horace F. Wulf the command of the Eleventh Congressional district of the Iowa department. Wulf has just been advanced to the district command of the Iowa department. His predecessor, O. F. Bennett, resigned to make the race for county attorney of Monahan county, Iowa.

Coolidge Comments

Worker Among Disabled

Mrs. Belle Nye of Albuquerque, N. M., past national historian of the American Legion auxiliary, recently interviewed President Coolidge and General Hines, head of the United States veterans' bureau, in the interest of the disabled service persons of New Mexico. President Coolidge communicated with Mrs. Nye as follows:

"I am very glad to learn through the interest of Senator Bursum about the fine work you are doing among the disabled soldiers. I want you to know how keen is my own interest in their behalf and how much I appreciate the efforts of people like yourself, who give so freely and willingly to better their condition."

"Most sincerely yours,
"CALVIN COOLIDGE."

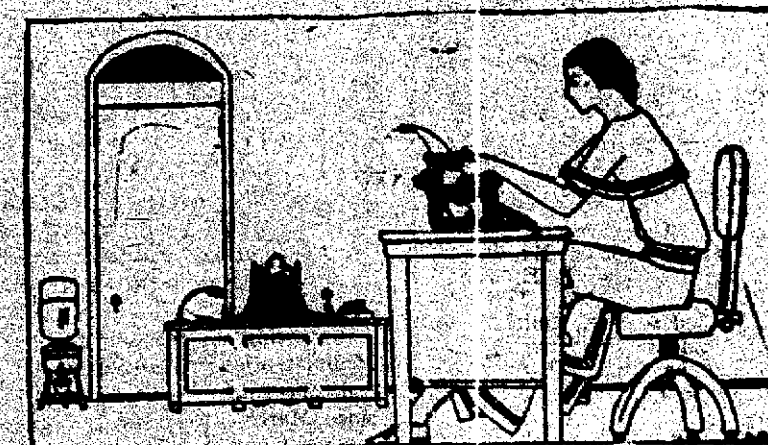

Largest Post in World Does Not Need Charity

Fifty-three more members, and the Omaha post of the American Legion, largest in the world, will have passed the 8,000 mark. The Omaha post recently passed a resolution asking that it not be included in the Omaha Community Chest, funds from which are allotted to various organizations for charitable purposes. Omaha post stated in this regard: "It has been our proud boast that the post has been self-supporting. We have sought members on the basis that each member should 'help carry a buddy's pack.' We should dislike to see the Legion, particularly the largest post in the world, forsake this policy and become dependent upon the Community Chest."

Curwensville's Own Column

At a meeting of the school board the latter part of last week the contract for furnishing coal to the school buildings, four in number, was given out. The bids were for gross, ton, 2220 pounds, there being six bids filed, namely: C. O. Norris & Co., $3.25; Robt. Addelman, $3.04; Ed. Moore, $3; James Lucas, $3.35; P. E. Smith, $3; and R. T. Lantz, $3.00. The contract was awarded to P. E. Smith, he being the only bidder specifying the quality of coal to be furnished, naming coal mined from the Moshannon vein.

Two young men by name of Cramer, hailing from Burgettstown, were Curwensville visitors to Saturday. The Cramer family resided here a number of years ago, the father of the family working in the old James Thompson foundry as a moulder. The boys had never been back to the town since very early boyhood and they were trying to locate some of the old landmarks.

Miss Lucy Spencer, clerk in the Rorabaugh insurance office, was run down Saturday evening while crossing the street. The machine striking her was operated by a young man named Reitz, from Clearfield, who was running with a beginner's license. In trying to avoid running into another car he hit the young lady, not having seen her. He stopped his car and rendered all assistance possible, conveying Miss Spencer to Dr. Blair's office nearby, who pronounced her not seriously injured, other than receiving some bruises and bumps. She was able to be taken home an hour after the accident.

Miss Helen Clark left today for DuBois, where she will enter the business college for the winter term.

Samuel Smith, a son of D. V. Smith, returned from Philadelphia Saturday where he had gone for an operation. He had a bullet removed from his right shoulder that had been there since the young man was wounded in the world war. He also had his tonsils removed. Mr. Smith still carries a second bullet in his body which could not be taken out at this time. He served in Battery B, 10th Field Artillery.

Mrs. O'Dell, mother of Harry O'Dell of Mahaffey, is visiting with her son and his family up in the Nulton section.

Miss Lucy Brennett left Saturday for Potterdale to teach a term of school. Miss Leonore Test also went down the river to Mt. Pleasant, where she will teach this winter.

A. M. Stine, lumberman and saw mill expert, returned on Saturday from a trip near the Virginia line where he spent a week in the interest of his lumber business.

A dispute of right of way on the state highway Saturday evening below the Susquehanna House between a large truck and a Buick resulted in the lighter car coming out second best to an extent that the four occupants had to foot it home several miles above Lumber City, their car being so badly disabled that it refused to do further duty. Each driver accused the other of being in the wrong.

Harrisburg.—When he refused to stop when ordered to do so, Frank Hinkle, 36, was shot through the arm by a policeman and today will face a charge of illegal possession of liquor. Police say Hinkle threw a five-penny jay from his automobile, but they obtained evidence enough to warrant holding him.

Harrisburg.—Four murder cases are listed for trial at the September term of criminal court which opens here Monday. The trial of Dr. Cornelius M. Bailey, prominent physician, charged with murdering Mrs. Anna Manbeck, a widow, will come up at this time.

Hughes Sees No Good Reason For Opening Up Relations With Russia

By H. K. REYNOLDS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Sept. 8.—Secretary of State Hughes sees no immediate possibility for the establishment of amicable relations between the United States and Russia, it was indicated today through the publication of a handbook on foreign relations which he has written for the Presidential campaign.

Reviewing the whole history of the administration's correspondence with and concerning the Soviet government since March, 1921, Hughes said that the most serious objection to dealing with Moscow was the "continued propaganda to overthrow the institutions of this country," and declared that the United States could not enter into negotiations, "until these efforts directed from Moscow are abandoned."

Information in the file of the State Department, Hughes said, conclusively establishes these facts:

"1.—The essential unity of the various Bolshevik organizations known as the Communist party, the so-called Soviet government and the Communist Internationale, all of which are controlled by a small group of individuals technically known as the political bureau of the Russian Communist Party.

"2.—The spiritual and organic connection between this Moscow group and its agent in this country—the American Communist party and its legal counterpart, the Workers' party.

"Not only are these organizations the creation of Moscow," Hughes declared, "but the latter has also elaborated their program and control and supervise their activities.

"While there may have existed in the United States individuals and even groups imbued with Marxist doctrine prior to the advent of the Communist Internationale, the existence of a disciplined party equipped with a program aiming at the overthrow of the institutions of this country by force and violence is due to the intervention of the Bolshevik organizations in the domestic, political life of the United States.

"The essential fact is the existence of an organization in the United States created by, and completely subservient to, a foreign organization striving to overthrow the existing social and political order of this country."

China On Verge

the blame for the first shot on the Kiangsu armies. It accused Tsao Kun of buying the Chinese presidency by bribery and by crushing the neighboring provinces, trampling the whole nation under foot.

Apparently realizing that this war is now a showdown for the control of all China, the opposing armies at Huangtu and Linhu are engaged in the bitterest fighting thus far reported from the front near Shanghai.

The Kiang forces have started a drive from Tsing-Pu eastward toward Lake Tai-Hu, with the object of capturing Sung-Kiang, cutting the line of communication between Shanghai and Hang-Chow. Each side is reported to have 35,000 troops in this sector, where it is expected the sharpest struggle will occur.

Scalpers Will Lose Out in Endeavor to Profit

After the passage of the adjusted compensation bill recently, came rumors that "scalpers" were attempting to buy up for cash at large discounts the adjusted compensation certificates of World War veterans. Such "purchases" by scalpers will be met by drastic action on the part of the veterans' bureau, and will result in the scalper finding himself with only "a scrap of paper," was the declaration of Gen. Frank Hines, director of the veterans' bureau, to representatives of the American Legion.

Attention of the veterans' bureau was called to an advertisement in which a veteran offered to sell his certificate "to the highest cash bidder." Bureau officials were also advised of reports that a huge financial pool is being organized for the purpose of buying up compensation certificates in the hope of large profits at the expense of the veteran and of the government.

In reply to the above reports, the following telegram was sent by General Hines: "No certificate issued or right conferred under the World War compensation act shall be negotiable or assignable; neither will such certificate or any right conferred serve as security for any loan except as provided in section 502 of the act, which provides for loans from banks under certain conditions. Any other negotiations or assignments are void."

Legion Home Company, New Ohio Institution

The American Legion Home company, of Canaan, Ohio, was recently incorporated at Congress, under the state laws of Ohio and received its charter, in which the following provisions were included: "This corporation is formed for the purpose of promoting, assisting and fostering civic organizations, for the support and advancement of patriotic principles through local and community groups and societies organized for charity, education and recreation." According to a Legion official, the company has $11,000 with which to start the ball rolling on its Community Betterment campaign.

Soldier Peddler Law Is Regarded as Unfair

The so-called "soldier peddler's law" in effect in the state of Minnesota should be repealed, according to a resolution passed by the state legislative committee of the American Legion of Minnesota. The law enables former service men to peddle without a license. The Legion points out that under the law many outsiders have come into the state at various times and competed with local merchants who are paying taxes and who are deserving of the patronage of the consumer. The Legion legislative body also suggested that a law prohibiting aliens from teaching in the grade schools be passed.

Closely following, Smith's plane came the New Orleans, piloted by Lieutenant Eric Nelson with Lieutenant John Harding, Jr., as mechanic. This picture was taken by Bob Dorman, NEA Service and Progress staff photographer, who was with the destroyer squadron in arctic waters seven weeks.

WHY IT WILL PAY YOU TO TRADE IN

CLEARFIELD

CLEARFIELD

Perhaps you've oftentimes heard the expression "They are doing this," or "They are wearing that this year." Did you ever give it enough thought to wonder who "They" might be?

"They" say that we should buy in Clearfield. "They" say we should unite on all community enterprises for the common good—but for heaven's sake, who are "They"?

"They" are ALL the people, and all the people includes yourself. Yes dear reader, you too, have said it would be better if everybody bought their needs in Clearfield, and you might also have added, "But so-and-so buys his or her goods elsewhere, so I will too." Now we ask you, as friend to friend, is that a good excuse? Perhaps Mr. or Mrs. Somebody-else says the same thing and uses you for an excuse. One wrong doing cannot be righted by another wrong doing, neither does the fact that somebody else does their trading elsewhere serve as an excuse for you to do likewise.

In teaching small children we try first to set them an example of right. Many people who have grown up are still children and need the same examples.

ANTS FORGE AHEAD: AMERICAN LEADERS LOSE

New York, Sept. 8 (INS).—The ants were a game and a half in the National League race today as they prepared to meet Brooklyn on their home ground.

Pittsburgh dealt the Pirates a damaging and unexpected blow yesterday defeating the Corsairs in both of a doubleheader.

The pirates are now in third place, the points behind Brooklyn and one half game in the wake of the Giants.

The American League race was unexciting today, as both Washington and New York lost. Detroit continued its winning streak and rose to win two and one half games of Yankees. The Tigers are four one half games behind the Senators, but have an advantage over New York and Washington in that two of their remaining games will be played at home.

BASEBALL DOPE

The Senators failed to hit in the top of the ninth and dropped a game to the Sox, 6 to 2.

The Athletics staged a ninth inning rally while Bob Shawkey was pitching about his World Series and the Yankees lost, 2 to 1, giving a chance to cut down Washington's lead.

St. Louis' failure to hit enabled the Cardinals to trim the Cardinals, 2 to 1. St. Louis got an even break by going away with the second game to 4.

The Tigers made it six straight by angling out Cleveland in the eighth, 8 to 7, and advanced to within two and one half games of the Yankees. Cobb led six pitchers to keep the Indians on the reservation.

AND WILLS TO FIGHT THURSDAY

DAVIS J. WALSH, N. Y. Sports Editor, New York, Sept. 8.—Having gained the newspaper decision over his opponent, the law in convicting to obtain a postponement of deportation hearings until after the fight, is being automatically become an automatic favorite today on Broadway to see Harry Wills at Jersey City on Thursday night. That is, odds of 8 to 1 were offered but there were no takers in the immediate vicinity. The chances appear to esteem the business is in the bag.

WEIGHT TITLE AT STAKE TONIGHT

New York, Sept. 8. (INS).—Meetings for the third time with honors were given to date Abe Goldstein of New York and Tommy Ryan of McKeen, Pa., will box fifteen rounds for the world's bantam-weight title tonight at the Queensboro Stadium. Goldstein, the champion, has been in a slight favorite.

TRINITY CHURCH ITEMS

Church school had a lively resumption yesterday. Strangers and new members were welcomed. The returned vacation group added to the attendance which touched 257, and the missionary offering came to $30. even. Missionary Superintendent M. D. Powell, Jr., excited both large attention and deep interest in his portrayal of the child labor conditions in America.

At morning worship, with strangers from far and near—far enough—Oregon, Florida, Iowa, and other nearby states and communities in Pennsylvania; with goodly music by chorus in anthem and song, the congregation heard as pithy, pungent preaching as most of the folks cared to listen to. From the 19th Psalm the pastor worked out the manifestation of God in His works to offset crass materialism by the intellectual group and by the practical atheists, who concede God's existence, but frightfully dishonor Him in their wicked oeds, immoral indulgences and their wasteful, worthless social activities that minister to vanity and hateful jealousies. Then came God's revelation in His words, laying a moral basis for life and civilization, which was used as an offset to some of the methods of education, which stress chemistry more than character and mathematics more than manhood. Moral leadership in instructors and heads of institutions is imperatively needed; in a measure more than competency in mental training. During the elaboration of this proposition a silent attention developed tension that only the next proposition relieved. That was the revelation of God in human experience, which was reviewed from psychology, religious consciousness, the hymnology of the Church and the interpretations of workings of divine grace in the human heart, so thoroughly presented by Paul.

This week's events: Monday night, Queen Esther Circle. Wednesday, mid-week congregational meeting, devotional period to missions with offering, followed by Sunday school board meeting. Thursday evening, Women's Foreign Missionary auxiliary, Mrs. S. E. Warner's group in charge; election of officers.

about. The County Commissioners should screen the windows and put on new window shades in place of old ones, and put new oil cloth on the dining room table and provide better ventilation for the dining rooms, and we recommend this to be done. We recommend that a building be provided to house persons having contagious disease. Much of the bedclothing is worn out and should be replaced. The electric wiring in the barn is loose in many places and is dangerous. This should be fixed. The machinery in the laundry is not safeguarded and should be remedied.

The Jail is in excellent condition, with one exception. The windows of the Jail are not screened with steel screening, and this permits the prisoners to acquire any articles desired and makes a dangerous and very bad condition. For several years Grand Juries have repeatedly recommended that these screens be placed, but nothing has been done. We again recom-

AT HERRIN "KLAN MURDER" INQUEST

There is one bit of testimony presented at the coroner's inquest into the Herrin (Ill.) "Klan" murders that probably will not go into the records exactly the way it was given. It concerns Jane Lasater, official stenographer at the inquest. Miss Lasater had to listen to Charles Denham, sitting right across the table from her, accuse her of being present at the rioting in front of Smith's garage. Denham, an admitted klansman, said she was in an automobile occupied by State's Attorney DeLoe L. Duty and City Judge E. W. Bowen, and that Duty and Bowen fired at klansmen. Miss Lasater's face registered both scorn and amusement as Denham made his charges. Just back of her may be seen a young militiaman, wearing a steel helmet and with bayonet in gun, standing guard during the proceedings.

Respectfully submitted,
JOSEPH HEWETT, Foreman,
H. E. OWENS, Secretary.

NUMBER 211

FLYERS TAKE NEW YORK BY STORM; CROSS BROADWAY WHICH IS SWIRLING POOL OF HUMANITY BIDDING WELCOME

Prince of Wales and
Jack Pershing Head
Big Audience at Min-
eola Field.

GET BIG WELCOME

Mitchell Field, Mineola, N. Y., Sept. 8. (INS.)—The Three round the world flyers, accompanied by an escort of thirteen aeroplanes, arrived here at 3:40 o'clock this afternoon from Boston where they hopped off at noon.

More than five thousand persons were here to welcome them, including his royal highness, the Prince of Wales.

The military band stationed in the grandstand played "The Stars and Stripes forever," as the planes hovered over the dying field preparatory to landing.

New York, Sept. 8. (INS.)—America's round the world flyers came within sight of the Statue of Liberty this afternoon.

They reached New York City at 3:08 p. m.

The three world flight aeroplanes roared into New York from Boston, where they hopped off at noon. The planes soared gracefully over the city accompanied by a squadron of more than a dozen escort planes.

Net a cloud was in the sky as Lieut. Lowell H. Smith and his intrepid cohorts swept over Manhattan. The sun was shining brightly.

From roof tops, windows of tall skyscrapers, ships in the harbor, bridges and other vantage points, thousands of persons watched and cheered the arrival of the flyers.

The flyers came into the city from the northeast. They were on their way to Mitchell Field, Mineola, where preparations had been made for a royal and official welcome, the Prince of Wales and General John J. Pershing being among those expected to greet them at Mineola.

Enroute to Mitchell field they flew over Broadway, most famous of all American streets. Then they crossed the East River to Brooklyn on the way to Mineola.

Chattering and handkerchief waving crowds greeted the flyers all along the route—in Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York State towns.

It is doubtful if the world's flyers ever had such an audience as that which witnessed their arrival in New York. Every vantage point in the Metropolis and its environs was occupied an hour or more before the flyers sped like sparrows into the city.

Work was at a standstill, in most business places when the Twentieth century Magellans finally soared into view.

People in groups of ten to crowds gaped upward. Even street cars and other conveyances stopped. Thousands were perched on buildings. Great crowds were on the ships in the Harbor.

At 3:08 the flyers and their escort of aeroplanes swooped into the environs of New York and headed toward the center of the city—Broadway.

Washington, Sept. 8. (INS.)—America's squadron of "round-the-world flyers" will leave New York for Washington early tomorrow, Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service, notified the War Department today.

Only bad weather or unforeseen events will delay the departure. General Patrick said. He has directed that all arrangements for the reception of the flyers be completed at once by Bowling Field officials.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Turner and daughter Pauline, Mrs. Beatrice Richards and son Chester have returned home after spending a couple of days in Buffalo, N. Y. and Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Graham and son Billy motored to Lock Haven Sunday and spent the day with friends.

Anti-Klanners Of Maine May Put Pattangal, The Democrat, To Victory

Augusta, Maine, Sept. 8. (INS.)—Maine went to the polls today after one of the most heated political campaigns in its history, and as usual, the whole nation watched. It has been said that "as Maine goes, so goes the Nation."

Early reports indicated that the political south-sayers were correct in their predictions that there would be more split ballots cast than ever before and that an unusually heavy vote would be polled.

Although state leaders of both Republican and Democratic parties predicted victory for their tickets, significance was attached to the admission of Republican leaders that Senator Ralph O. Brewster, in his race for governorship, would probably run behind the rest of the Republican ticket.

The Ku Klux Klan reared its shrouded head throughout the campaign and William R. Pattangal, Democratic candidate for Governor has not hesitated to call attention to it. He has repeatedly claimed his opponents supported by the order and Brewster has been content to deny affiliation with the Klan.

Return of U. S. Senator Bert M. Fernald to Washington is generally conceded.

There are several warm contests over the election of Congressmen, Sheriffs and other county officers.

ZR-3 WILL MAKE TRANS-ATLANTIC JOURNEY SEPT. 20

Washington, Sept. 8. (INS.)—The Navy Department today announced September 20th had been agreed upon tentatively as the date for the sailing of the ZR-3, giant airship under construction in Germany for the United States government to the United States.

The date is dependent upon the performance of the ZR-3 in a 35-hour trial flight to take place September 9, the Navy was notified.

STATE POLICE TAKE 14 IN BELLEFONTE RAIDS

Bellefonte, Sept. 8.—Twenty-two prohibition officers made a raid in Bellefonte last night and as a result 14 arrests were made and defendants placed under $1,000 bail each for a hearing Monday afternoon.

Violating the liquor laws was charged in each case. The Moose club was among the places raided, the others being alleged bootlegging agencies. Raiders have two stills and a quantity of liquor as evidence.

A "CLOSE UP" OF "MISS AMERICA", NATION'S MOST BEAUTIFUL BATHING GIRL PERSONIFICATION OF MODESTY

By DAVIS SENTINER

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 8.—Miss America of 1924, 18-year-old Ruth Malcolmson, of Philadelphia, the new "most beautiful bathing girl," is a startling combination of athletic prowess and femininity.

She runs the 50-yard dash in 6 1/2 seconds with her long brown curls flying, plays any position on a baseball team, swims, and is an expert gymnast. She also sings soprano in her church choir.

"I have no rules for beauty except plenty of exercise and going to sleep as early as possible," she said today.

Miss America has sent the following telegram to President Coolidge: "The crown of honor of being Miss America was bestowed on me in the national beauty tournament in Atlantic City last Saturday night. To be less than the prescribed eight inches of this honor, I will endeavor to live the principles and traditions of a real American life."

Vice President Of Bank Fichera Looted, Falls Dead In Hall At Home

Philadelphia, Sept. 8. (INS.)—Leaving his home today to go to the South Philadelphia State Bank which was closed Saturday by the State Banking Commission, Joseph Gerotti, a vice president of the bank collapsed in the vestibule of his home and died instantly. Heart trouble was ascribed as the cause.

Worry over the closing of the bank which was brought on by the financial difficulties of Edward L. Fichera, a vice president and treasurer of the bank, who has disappeared, is believed responsible for his death.

Shortly after his death it was announced the charter of the financial credit association, whose President Charles W. Stoneback of Coopersburg, Pa., is also President of the closed bank, has been suspended by the division of securities of the State Banking Department. Fichera was also vice president of the financial credit association.

The bank was opened today to permit further probing into the affairs of Fichera. His accounts, it is said, showed he loaned sums of money to "Kitty Zirhut" for "safe supplies," on several occasions. Banking officials claim: "Kitty Zirhut" was his "silent partner." Tho' the full amount paid out has not been disclosed, but it is estimated the total loss to the bank from Fichera's transactions will total about $27,000.

KANE CHILD FALLS IN A TUB OF BOILING HOT WASHING WATER

John Howard, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Eliason, of Kane, died at that place Friday evening as the result of being terribly scalded when he fell into a tub filled with hot water. Mrs. Eliason had filled a foot-bath tub with water and had taken it to the front porch of the home. The little fellow had followed her and as she was removing a porch swing, the little child said: "I will help you mama," and after the swing had been adjusted, stepped backward and fell into the scalding water. Mrs. Eliason immediately stripped the child and applied soothing ointment, pending the arrival of a doctor. Everything possible was done, but the little child died several hours later.

"PINING SQUIRE" IN THE TOILS

Mill Creek, Pa., Sept. 8.—On information of a citizen of his own town, Burgess Foust, of Mill Creek, who holds the dual role of Burgess and justice of the peace, was arrested today, charged with violating the law relative to fining of delinquent automobiles. All of the William Penn highway complaints have come from what is known as the Mill Creek speed trap and which has been maintained by Burgess Foust with the aid of two watchful officers stationed at either end of the alleged speed trap. Burgess Foust is specifically charged with collecting fines and dividing them with his two officers and keeping no record of the number of fines.

CHINA ON VERGE OF BLOODIEST CIVIL WAR IN HISTORY

Contending Armies Battle for Rich Shanghai Port; Manchurian Gov. Fights Central Powers.

BOTH WOULD RULE

By BERT KUHN

Shanghai, China, Sept. 8.—China appeared today to be verging on the bloodiest civil war in history. While the Chekiang-Kiangsu armies are engaged in sanguinary conflict for the possession of the rich seaport of Shanghai, Chiang Tso Lin, Tsch (military Governor) of Manchuria has declared war on the Central Government at Peking. Early reports indicate that every province in the nation will be involved.

The central Government in Peking has shown its hand in the Chekiang-Kiangsu war by issuing a mandate outlawing the military Governor of Chekiang and making the military Governor of Kiangsu the head of a military expedition against the Chekiang troops in issuing this mandate. President Tsao-Kun declared General Lu Yung Kiang, Governor of Chekiang a traitor to the nation.

By so doing Tsao saved his face, asserting that the leading militarists, including General Wu Pei-Fu and the Christian general Feng Yu-Hsiang, demanded the order.

In allying himself with the Chekiang forces, War Lord Chang Tso Lin, of Manchuria, makes an outright declaration of war on Peking in a circular telegram to all the provinces, converting the sporadic Shanghai outbreak into a national war and achieving an alliance which was started but was not completed two years ago, when Chong first marched at the head of his troops against the province of Chi-Li.

Simultaneously it was announced from Peking that a punitive mandate has been issued against the Chekiang armies, indicating that President Tsao Kun and General Wu Pei-Fu are determined to take up the gauntlet thrown down by the Manchurian war lord from Mukden. General Chang's telegram to the various Tschuns, bitterly denounces Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-Fu, declaring: "With mind perverted they are more than ever bent on showing their ferocious fangs. Not only have they shown no sympathy with the provinces afflicted by floods, but they are allocating unaffected provinces by military calamity."

The telegram emphasizes the efforts made by the Mukden war lord to mediate in the civil war and places (Continued on Page Seven.)

County Bee Keepers To Meet Here On Thursday In Annual Convention

The Annual Meeting of the Clearfield County Bee Keepers Association will be held in the Farm Bureau Office, Thursday, Sept. 11th, at 9:00 a. m. Professor Phillips, of State College, will be present and address the gathering of bee keepers on the current subjects of the day relating to bee keeping. Election of officers will take place.

It is hoped that a large number will be able to attend this meeting, as some very important matters face the local bee keepers at the present time. Clearfield County stands second in the State in the production of honey, and for this reason should have a strong organization. Each member should make a point to see that all the bee keepers in this community are advised of the meeting, as everyone interested in bee keeping is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

AN UNUSUAL FAMILY

Chicago, Sept. 8. (INS.)—Funeral services will be held this afternoon for Rabbi Solomon Miles, Chicago's oldest citizen, who died here yesterday at the age of 107 years. Miles leaves his widow, aged 90, five sons, three daughters, 22 grand children and five great grand children. His oldest son, Morris, 72, is employed by his youngest son, Peter, 42.

ELUSIVE BOY FROM RIDGWAY SEEN BUT CANNOT BE FOUND

Albert Johnson, the "boy of mystery," who left his home in Ridgway last June, is heard from at different times, but no one seems to close in on him sufficiently to bring him into custody and restore him to his home. John Johnson has been seen at St. Marys, Emporium and Port Allegany, but his father, who is on his trail, has not yet succeeded in catching up to him.

For the last two months his absence from his home here, has been broadcast, but it appears that still most of the populace in the vicinity where the boy evidently plans to hibernate state their ignorance of the fact. They report seeing him when questioned but fail to grab him when they have the opportunity. There is a fifty dollar reward for his capture, which the boy's father will pay and this should be some inducement to anyone who can get in touch with him.

The lad appears to be under a false impression thinking that it is the authorities that are looking for him; but such is not the case. No harm will come to him if he would give himself up and his parents would give him a hearty welcome back to his home.

Fire Does Considerable Damage In Press Room Of The North American

Philadelphia, Sept. 8. (INS.)—Five persons were injured, one seriously, early today when fire did considerable damage to the press room of the North American newspaper plant. Bernard Chadwick, a hose man, suffered internal injuries and possibly a fractured skull when he fell 35 feet from a ladder. Three other firemen and an employee were overcome by smoke but were revived. The loss was undetermined. The paper will not be forced to suspend publication.

NEED FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION IN THE CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA SOFT COAL INDUSTRY SAYS PUNXSUTAWNEY SPIRIT

In an article headed "Need for Immediate Action in Central Pennsylvania Soft Coal Situation Is Now Imperative," the Punxsutawney Spirit went right down to the meat of the proposition now confronting all of the people of the Central Pennsylvania Coal fields. The article, which we reprint herewith, is well worth reading, as it has the situation sized up exactly regardless of where your sympathies lie.

"The declaration of the officials of the R. & P. Coal & Iron Company some weeks ago that the towns of Adrian, Elanora and Helvetia would be closed is being carried out much to the regret of the inhabitants of these communities, says the Sykesville Post-Dispatch. In Elanora the company store stock has been removed and the big store building is being torn down for removal to a new mining town of the company. The company houses have been ordered vacated.

In Helvetia the company store has been closed, but not until the stock of merchandise had been removed to other stores of the company. The store force was dismissed last Saturday.

Practically the same condition exists in Adrian as in Helvetia and the plight of the families in the company blocks may easily be imagined. Company officials maintain that the towns in these towns are old operations and cannot be operated at any thing but a distinct loss under present prices of mining. These towns have been among Punxsutawney's best feeders and every man, woman and child in this section is directly concerned in the company's action. If, as the operators in general main-

GRAND JURY RECOMMENDS CRIMINAL ACTION BE TAKEN IF SCREENS ARE NOT PLACED ON REAR JAIL WINDOWS

Clearfield Hi's Captain

"Bob" Wilson, the unanimous selection of the 1923 letter men to pilot this season's 11-sailed craft to the "top of the scholastic heap."

Wilson's election to the dominating position came after two seasons of sterling work had stamped him as an unusual player with much ability as a leader. Last season "Bob" did all the punting for the local eleven and gained no little praise for his ability to propel long spirals that greatly helped his team. On frequent occasions he was on the passing or receiving ends of passes that netted large gains.

In practice this year Bob has been proving an aggressive leader in all workouts, kicking and passing in good form, and when the active work starts he is expected to come thru in fine style with a "Caesar."

Cites Fact That Every
Grand Jury for Several
Years Had Made Same
Recommendation.

DEMAND ACTION

Strange as it may seem, and it is indeed more than passing strange in view of all that has gone before, the September Grand Jury, which today concluded its labors late Saturday last, found the Clearfield county jail still without those long sought wire screens on the rear windows of the jail. Emulating the many grand juries before and since the escape of Harry Hinzey, the convicted Madern murderer, away back in the early years of Sheriff Gorman's term, this grand jury again and once more recommends the placing of these screens as an act of ordinary precaution against the smuggling of contraband goods and tools into the jail. They call attention to the fact of the non-compliance by the County Commissioners with the recommendation of the previous Grand Juries in regard to the placing of these screens, but go a step farther by adding the following to their recommendation, which will undoubtedly get the action so long desired by the good people of Clearfield county:

"For several years Grand Juries have repeatedly recommended that these screens be placed, but nothing has been done. We again recommend that this be done and because the present condition is dangerous and likely to cause escapes from jail, we recommend that the Court and District Attorney cause criminal action to be instituted before the next Grand Jury, if these screens are not immediately obtained, or satisfactory efforts to procure the same have been made."

The report further says the jail is in excellent condition, likewise the County House, but the Court House pretty well run down and in disrepair. The complete report follows:

"To the Hon. A. R. Chase, President Judge of Clearfield county, The Grand Jury convened for September Sessions, 1924, respectfully report:

The District Attorney presented to us ninety three bills of indictment, of which ninety were found true bills, and three were ignored.

We inspected the Court House, County Home and Jail. The general condition of the buildings is good.

We commend the repairs made to the Grand Jury room. We recommend that new chairs and table be got for the Traverse Jury room.

The ceiling of the Arbitration room is in bad condition and we recommend that it be repaired; and that some other place be obtained for the storage of ballot boxes and large packages of papers, and that the litter in said room be removed.

We recommend that more shelves be placed in vault of Treasurer's Office. We recommend that more vault room, as was recommended by former Grand Juries, be obtained for the Register and Recorder.

We commend the Steward and Matron of the County House because of the general good conditions there (Continued on Page Three)

meet with the operators and thresh out the problem. If the operators can conclusively show these officials that a lower wage scale means more money for the miner and increased prosperity for this section, it is the duty of these officials to make every effort in their power to see that the desired condition is brought about.

It doesn't take a mathematician to figure out that the man who works for $5 a day and works six days a week, has it all over the individual who works for $20 a day, and works but one day a month.

Coal consumption, according to government figures, is close to normal. The situation calls for action and the public has a right to demand it. The operators and the miners' officials cannot bring prosperity by airing their opinions as to the cause of conditions in this field thru lengthy newspaper articles. Only through conference, concessions and the exercise of good common sense can anything be accomplished. Something is wrong. It be- leaves the operators and the miners to meet in common conference, and out precisely what that trouble is, and remedy it. Contracts that cannot be altered when the terms of the contract work hardship upon all parties concerned belong to other ages than this.

Demand for coal is certain to increase as winter approaches and if the thermometer today is to be believed, it is close at hand. The Central Pennsylvania operator and the Central Pennsylvania miner cannot allow that business to be concentrated in other fields.

McGANNON-BENNETT

Miss Mary McGannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McGannon, of West Long avenue, and Orville Bennett, of Clearfield, were quietly married in the parsonage of St. Cecilia's church Saturday evening, August 9th, by the Rev. M. J. Bennett. They were accompanied by Miss Elvira Allen and William B. S. wait.

Miss McGannon is a well known young lady of the city, a graduate of the DuBois Business College and has been an employee of the P. R. & E. for the past year. They will make their future home in Clearfield where the groom holds a responsible position.—DuBois Courier.

Local People Hurt When Bumped By Another Car Near Village Of Bigler

Mrs. Francis McGoe and her sister, Miss Carrie Mitchell, of Walnut street, were quite painfully bruised about the head and body Saturday evening last when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by an Essex car being driven by Joe Lorbecki, of Houtdale. The accident occurred shortly after 9 o'clock at the curve on the Clearfield-Philipsburg state road opposite the Bigler brick works.

Mr. and Mrs. McGoe, accompanied by Miss Mitchell and J. S. Gaulin, in their Buick sedan, were traveling toward Philipsburg. As they approached the point, mentioned a Ford car from Philipsburg shot around the curve ahead of them. Traffic Patrol enforcing the law as to speeding happened to be working at this point and gave the Ford driver the "high sign" to stop. He did so quickly and the Essex traveling at least 35 miles an hour and closely following the Ford, swung out to run around the Ford. The McGoe car was in the act of going by the Ford at the time and the Essex banged right into it, badly wrecking both cars. Mrs. McGoe's head was jammed through the windshield and she was also bruised about the knee and the ankle, while her sister received bruises about the head and lower limbs, but fortunately neither was seriously hurt.

The Essex car was occupied by Lorbecki and a friend and two girls from Osceola and they also escaped with minor injuries.

The damaged cars were towed to the Bigler garage nearby and repairs made yesterday. Lorbecki paid the bill, he being to blame for the wreck.

DAVIS ASKS WEST WHAT THEY WANT; HAS NO PROGRAM

Denver, Colo., Sept. 8.—John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential nominee, reached here today to study at first hand the problems of the mountain west before offering to the nation his personal program on conservation and reclamation.

Davis greeted the far West with a demand for a "bloodless" government serving all citizens equally and a declaration that "he would continue to make honesty in government" his paramount issue.

"I came here more to learn than to teach," Davis said. "I want to mingle with the people of the West, and out their problems and inform myself about the things they expect from their government. If it becomes the pleasure of the people to make me their President, I hope to be the servant of all the people."

"What we need in this country is a government that is honest from the ground up and that is not directed in the interests of any part of the United States. This government has been dominated for fifty years past with the exception of certain Democratic administrations, by an industrial bloc that has managed the policies of the nation in its own peculiar interest. I want the day to come when no bloc will control this government and when it will be run in the interests of us all alike."

"That is my ideal and that is the proposal I have to make to my fellow countrymen in this election."

A large crowd greeted the nominee as his special train arrived from Lincoln, Nebraska, where he spent Sunday as the guest of Charles W. Bryan, his running mate. A reception committee headed by Governor William F.

Sweet and Senator Alva A. Adams escorted him to a temporary hotel headquarters. Davis spent the forenoon conferring with Democratic leaders from the mountain states. He was to leave this afternoon for Rocky Mountain National Park—60 miles north of here—to spend two days in seclusion, writing the set speeches to be delivered in the Denver auditorium on the night of September 11, and at Cheyenne, Wyo., on September 12.

Mrs. W. A. Sencer, Mrs. H. Rasdorf, Mrs. H. Adams, Mrs. H. Rasdorf, Mrs. Bertram Barnes, and Mrs. K. Fuller were hostesses at the semi-monthly luncheon of the Junior Social Club held at Blue Knob last Friday evening. Cards and dancing were the main features of the evening, music being furnished by a well-known orchestra. At a late hour a dainty repast was served. There were 80 present, including a party of eighteen from DuBois.

Mrs. J. M. McCracken, son and daughter, Mrs. L. J. Ritchey, son and daughter, motored to Blue Knob, Blair county, where they attended the Deal and Ritchey reunion. They motored from Blue Knob to Nant-y-Glo, where they visited Mr. McCracken's brother, who is seriously ill at his daughter's home.

Taken From Passenger Train At Syracuse With A Badly Fractured Skull

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 8. (INS.)—Onondaga authorities today abandoned investigation of the mysterious death of William Ryan, 55, of Denver, who was taken from a New York Central train here Sunday, dead from a fractured skull. Responsibility for continuance of the investigation was placed on the Ohio authorities by the Onondaga officials. Ryan was a delegate en route to the International bricklayers union conclave at Saratoga.

More Milk Means Better Health

Milk contains every diet-essential your body needs for better health. Not only does milk contain everything for the baby and the growing youngster, but it also contains every vital food element for adult bodies necessary to repair the waste that is going on every day.

There are the proteins for energy, the carbohydrates for heat and fuel, the minerals to repair bone, the vitamins which you hear so much about, the preventative vitamins which ward off certain diseases everything which your body requires for its carrying on.

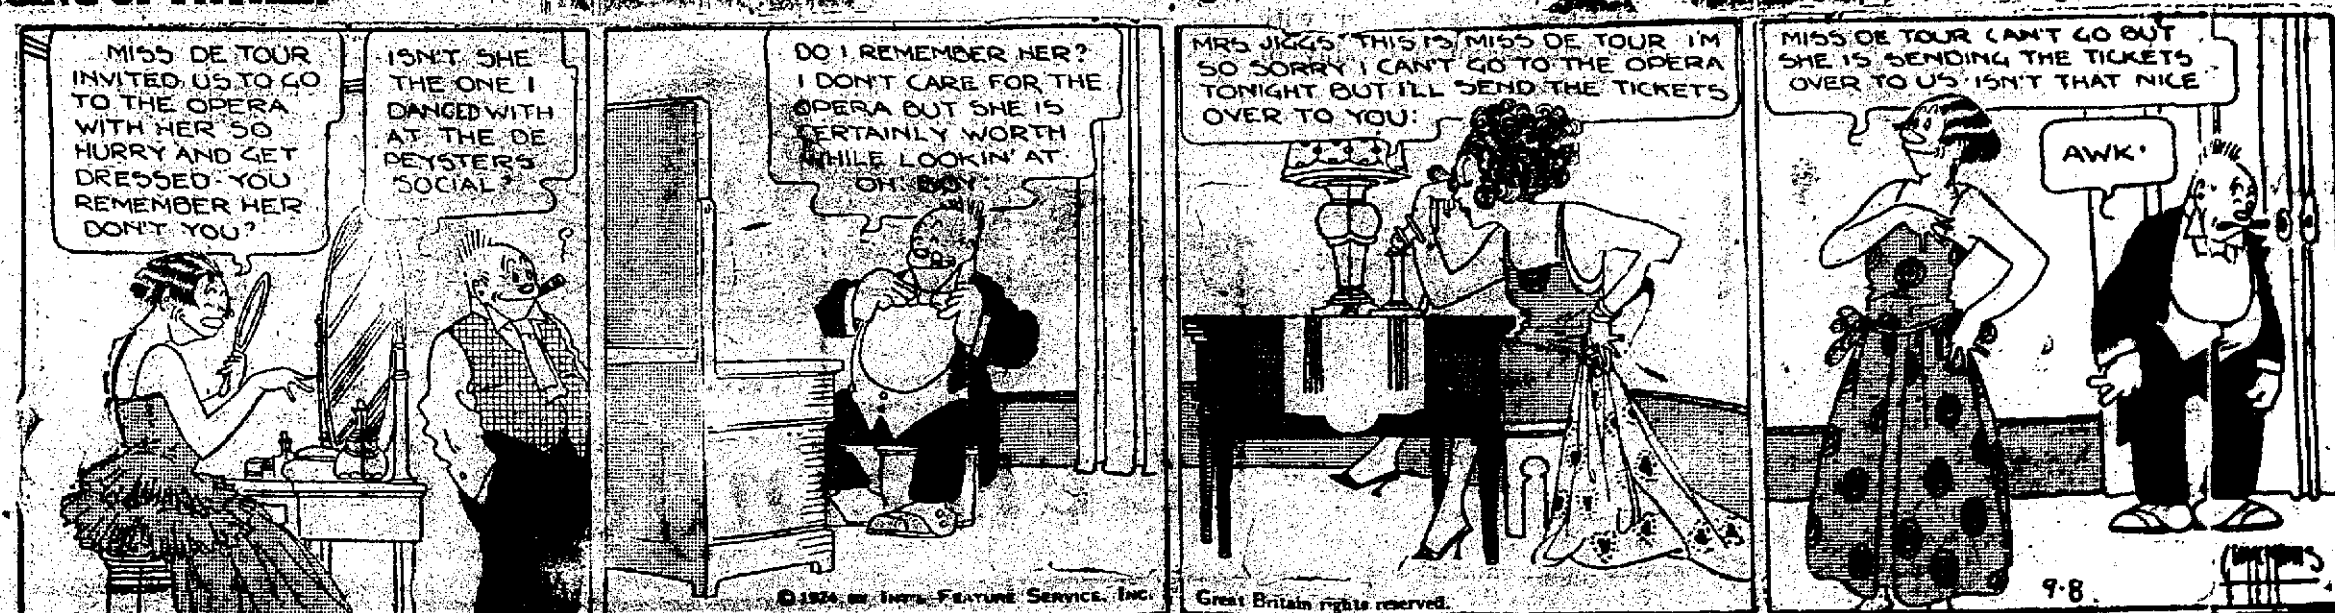

You may not be able to drink milk as a beverage. Then, have it used more freely in the preparation of your other foods. Eat more custards, use milk in the making of other dishes—but be sure you use enough in this way to get at least a quart a day for children and a pint for adults.

Do this for a month and see how much better you look and, what's more important, how much better you feel.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Changing the number of months in the year from twelve to thirteen of twenty-eight days each, and making the extra day a holiday, is one of the important steps to be considered at the meeting of the International Geometric and Geophysical Union, which will be held soon in Madrid. So declared Dr. Henry J. Cox, senior meteorologist and district forecaster for the United States Weather Bureau at Chicago, just before he sailed for Europe last week.

The question, Dr. Cox said, will be taken up by the Astronomical Division of the conference. If the plan favored by the scientists is adopted, the months will be four weeks each, the first will always fall on Sunday, while Saturdays will always conclude the week, falling on the 7th, 14th, 21st and 28th. The extra day which comes each year will be regarded as a floating day, but will be called "New Year's Eve."

A strong advocate of this change is Prof. Charles F. Marvin, head of the United States Weather Bureau. It also has the tentative approval of the Catholic and Episcopal churches, said Dr. Cox, who added that the change will not only not interfere with church calendars but will make for a permanent Easter.

Since the last congress of the descendants of the Mayflower Pilgrims three years ago, their organization has increased by 910. Its membership now 5,077, grows rapidly in the West so that a Chicago meeting is suggested.

Only half of the 102 Mayflower Pilgrims survived the first winter, some of them too old to hope for New World progeny. But of the remainder a single one, counting only two children to the family and three generations to the century, might furnish unassailable qualifications to more than 500 potential present-day members. In fact, considering the early marriages and large families of the colonial adventurers, the possibilities far surpass such modest totals.

There must be in the country tens of thousands of people indubitably qualified to sit with the Plymouth conferees, yet unaware of the fact. They will not remain unaware. Family trees are interesting more and more American women yearly. It is in vain for the Pilgrim descendants, if they wish to keep their organization exclusive, to discuss stricter rules of admission. Their troubles do not arise from lax admissions but from the unfavorable law of geometrical progression.

Only 20 per cent of the people of the United States are "tooth conscious" and only about 60,000 dentists administer to the 110,000,000 population, it was said by G. Layton Grier of Cleveland, President of the Dental Trades Association, in convention at the Hotel Ambassador in Atlantic City recently.

"Until the other 80 per cent of Americans become 'tooth conscious'—that is, clean their teeth—we will not have a really healthy country," he said.

The modest set of men in Clearfield these evenings just as soon as early twilight descends on the Benett's Branch valley, and it comes pretty early these September evenings. Here is the "how and the why" of it, according to a Huston township man, who unburdened himself in our hearing while attending court last week:

Some 25 years ago, the Low Grade Branch of the Pennsylvania railroad running between Red Bank and Driftwood, put on an evening passenger train which carried mail and arrived at Penfield about 7:30 p. m.

Whether the Government required it or no, we don't know, but the postmaster at that time, who was the late H. H. Lowell, father of Sheriff Lowell, and all postmasters since his time have kept the office open evenings for delivery of mail from this train, which was often late. This furnished a place for the public to meet and discuss current events. Many husbands often amused themselves at other places, telling their wives when they got home that the evening mail train was late and that they stayed up for it.

Some angry wife apparently took the matter up with Uncle Sam and reported that the lobby of the post office was being used for a loafing place and that some effort should be made to stop it, even if they had to remove the present postmaster. An inspector was sent out to inquire into and make recommendation for the adjustment of the trouble at this place. He told some of the angry wives that the lobby of the post office was public property and that anyone who was orderly and well-behaved could loaf there all day, but in order to help them out would recommend that the post office be closed at 6:00 p. m.

This recommendation he made, and was forwarded to Washington with the result that the order was issued for the closing of the office at 6:00 p. m., and now the prowling husbands have to find another alibi for staying out late.

BONUS APPLICATIONS

There has been no such rush to file army bonus applications as was expected. One large city reports that of 56,000 service men only 17,000 applications have been distributed by the headquarters maintained by the American Legion for that purpose, and it is not believed that more than 15,000 have filed their applications. Other cities report varying degrees of indifference on the part of the veterans.

It may be that the nature of this particular plan for "adjusted compensation" is less popular with the service men than other plans that failed of enactment. Life insurance, even when furnished without expense, is not necessarily a subject arousing enthusiasm, as many an insurance agent will testify. Still, it is surprising that there is not greater readiness on the part of the beneficiaries to take advantage of it. Though it may mean little to them directly, they, of all men, should have a realization of the uncertainty of life and the desirability of leaving an assured amount of liquid property for their families.

THE SEVEN FUNDAMENTALS

The ideas of most people in regard to the modernist-fundamentalist controversy in the churches seem very hazy. They have a notion that the modernists incline to believe in creation by evolution, while the fundamentalists hold fast to separate acts of a personal deity. Beyond that, all is vague. The clear statement by Bishop William Montgomery Brown of the whole matter in seven succinct propositions is therefore welcome.

Bishop Brown, it will be remembered, was tried and convicted of heresy a few months ago by the House of Bishops of the Episcopal Church. In order to avoid the further trouble which a trial on appeal might cause, he offers to withdraw his books and resign his ministry if a majority of the bishops will affirm their belief in the seven propositions as he has stated them.

How the affair will be finally decided, and which side is right, are not matters for a newspaper to make any attempt to decide. The interest for the reader lies in the propositions themselves. Here they are:

"God is an objective, conscious, personal reality, existing independently of all other realities.

"God made out of nothing heaven and earth and all that is in them.

"Man's existence was brought about by direct creative acts of God, not by evolution from lower forms of life.

"The world owes all its death and suffering to the disobedience of Adam, and this fatal fall was due to Eve, who was persuaded to eat of the forbidden fruit by a serpent.

"All men must rely on the atoning death of Christ, an objective, conscious, personal being, for salvation from sin, and those who do not for that reason will suffer.

"Christ rose bodily from death and so ascended into Heaven above the earth, where he now sits on the right hand of God.

"The bodies of all dead men, women and children will at some time be physically resurrected."

If one affirms these propositions "to be so many literal—not spiritual or mystical—truths", he is, apparently, a fundamentalist. If he doubts any of them, he leans toward modernism. It will be interesting to study them a bit and find out where one stands.

Two Killed In Explosion At The Eclipse Oil Works Today At Franklin, Pa.

Franklin, Pa., Sept. 8 (INS).—At least two men were killed, six were injured and probably others were seriously burned when an explosion of unknown origin shook the Eclipse Oil Works this morning. The entire working force of 300 men employed at the stills were fighting the flames this afternoon, and newspaper men sent to the scene were ordered back.

Swartz and Witherup were the dead men's names. Efforts to get Witherup's body so far have been unavailing, and it is believed the body of a third victim is also behind the barrier of flames.

The injured men are in a hospital and emergency preparations have been ordered to care for others. The blaze is one of the worst oil fires which has ever visited this vicinity in recent years.

The bottom fell out of one of the stills at No. 5 plant sending flaming oil all over the scene and men had to run for their lives. Three tanks and the entire No. 5 plant were burning early this afternoon and special calls were sent out for huge blankets to help check the spread of the flames.

BIGGEST IN THE WORLD

By FLORENCE DAVIES

Not long ago a famous painting by the great master, Rubens, was put up at auction at Christie's in London and failed to find a bid. And yet Rubens is one of the great names in the world of art, ranking with the greatest masters of all time.

Pictures by Rubens have sold for more than a hundred thousand dollars. Yet this picture was returned to the palace of the Duke of Westminster from whence it came, not a single bid having been offered for it.

The reason was very simple. The picture was too big. It was of mammoth size, and the day when the bigger picture the greater its importance is past. Nobody wanted it, not even a museum, because, nobody had a suitable place to put it.

In other words, we no longer buy art by the yard. Size alone is not impressive. It is quality that counts.

Perhaps this is a good omen. If the art world has waked up to the fact that "big" doesn't necessarily mean "great," perhaps the rest of the world will soon learn that, too.

Summer tourists just home from a visit to Detroit, told tales of bigness found in that city. In fact, its a tale of size that they tell in almost all our great cities. In Detroit, the travelers heard the phrase "biggest in the world," so often that it almost came to be a joke. Biggest office building in the world, biggest factory in the world, biggest newspaper plant in the world, biggest apartment house in the world, biggest claims they heard. As it happens, each of these institutions is great and fine as well as merely big. The office building was designed by a great architect, the factory, as everyone who has heard the name of Henry Ford knows, is superlatively efficient as well as big, the newspaper plant is beautiful as well as merely large. That makes them all worth while, not the mere fact of their size, which the Detroiters seem to talk most about.

Not how big but how fine, how truly great, how beautiful how worth while. That is the standard this new age of bigness must set for itself.

But it is an age when size deceives us. So many people are fairly killing themselves to get bigger fortunes, when a finer use of what they have is the real success. Bigger houses are not necessarily better than little ones which have found the secret of home. Bigger churches are fine to brag about, but the spirit of Christ may not brood there, as it may where two or three are gathered together, and bigger schools make a fine showing, in the town, but the little school or college where the teacher knows each pupil may be much greater.

The art world has passed up the giant pictures. They look for greatness in something else beside size. It is a happy warning, and one that we moderns need. A good many really fine undertakings have been killed by mere bigness. A small home well kept, a little club that means something to every member, a little church with a fine spirit, these are the things worth working for.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES

Yesterday at the hour of the morning service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered, and all who partook of the elements were again able to renew their allegiance to Him. The Sabbath school session and the Young People's meetings were well attended, and showed keen interest on the part of everyone. The evening message was brought to us by Dr. Reevs from the 48th Psalm, 141 verse. "For this God is our God forever and ever: He will be our even unto death." The numbers sung by the choir at each service added much to the blessing of the service.

Meetings For the Week

Wednesday evening the mid-week prayer and praise service at the usual hour invites everyone to join in it. Thursday evening the weekly prayer services at the Reedsville church will be resumed. Every one out at 7:30 and learn the plans for the coming year. We need your support.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rollin and family, who have been visiting relatives in this section for some time, returned to their home in Akron, Ohio, on Saturday.

In the Courts

A jury in Judge Heck's court returned a verdict on Saturday evening in which they allowed Jack Wise $100 damages for false arrest. The arrest was made by Officer Woolridge at the instigation of J. W. Chase on 12 o'clock on the night of January 12, 1924, and Wise was held in the borough lockup for ten hours. The defendants were assessed $50 each.

The second week of September term of civil court opened this morning. Judge Heck will again assist Judge Chase this week, and will hear those cases scheduled for trial in which Judge Chase was interested as counsel before being elevated to the bench.

HARBISON-WALKER REFRIGERATORS

Harbison-Walker Refrigerators Company's estimated earnings after deductions, including federal income taxes, for the quarter ended June 30, were $53,000, against $957,000 in the March quarter.

An Entirely New Idea in

Hair Brushes

A brush with the bristles set wider apart and each tuft embedded in a rubber-like composition that prevents its detachment. The bristles are a bit longer than usual. The handle of a particularly serviceable type in that it fits all hands. Altogether this is an entirely new idea in hair brushes and is only one of the big stock of brushes represented by all possible kinds, sizes, shapes and characters which we sell.

PENNSY-GRAMS

Selinagrove, Pa., Sept. 6. (INS.)—Charles E. Covert, of Harrisburg, former publisher of "Zembo" Temple, Harrisburg, and one of the leading construction engineers in Pennsylvania, died at his summer home here today. He had been in failing health for several months.

Covert, besides being a 3rd degree Mason, was one of the most widely known business men in the state.

Pittsburgh.—After a day's search, the body of John McClinton, 12, was found hanging from a tree in Penn township today. Police declared the boy evidently had hanged himself, but his parents could ascribe no motive for the suicide. A schoolmate of the boy said he had been acting in a peculiar manner since his head had been injured in a football game several days ago.

Pittsburgh.—Authorities are today still searching for Pauline Newman, 16, who left her home here more than a week ago. Relatives say the girl left a nervous breakdown several months ago and may be wandering near Pittsburgh suffering with amnesia. Police believe, however, Miss Newman is at a summer resort, because when she disappeared she took an evening gown and a bathing suit with her.

Pittsburgh.—The number of dead as the result of the gasoline tank explosion at the People's Gas Company here August 29, was increased to 11, with the death of Dominic Tripiano, 19, an employee of the company, who died yesterday at the Mercy hospital here from burns about the body.

New Castle.—The women of the Republican county committee will have for their guests at a luncheon here Sept. 19, Mrs. Cornelia Bryce Pinchot, wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania, it was announced here.

Philadelphia.—While her parents looked on, 4-year-old Katherine Trainer was killed by an automobile yesterday when she tried to pull her cousin Wm. Garrison, also 4, from its path. The boy was picking up a bag of candy in the street when the car approached. The girl tried to push him to safety but both were struck. The boy escaped serious injury.

Philadelphia.—No trace has been found of Edward A. Fichera, former President of the Philadelphia Title and Trust Company, who disappeared Friday just before the bank was ordered closed as the result of a serious shortage disclosed in its accounts. Relatives of the man fear he may have committed suicide. The loss to the bank through his alleged misappropriation of funds is now set at about $27,000.

Philadelphia.—Two persons died as the result of drinking poisoned rum over the weekend and nearly 50 others were treated at hospitals. One of the victims was Mrs. Fannie Sylvestre, colored.

Philadelphia.—Two Philadelphians died last night when their automobile left the Black Horse Pike bridge, N. J., and crashed into a river. Four other occupants of the car were injured. The victims were James Gallagher, 28, and Thomas Conkle, 27. Police say the car was stolen Saturday night from a Philadelphia garage.

Precision Made for Cats

The value of cats to the postal service has come to be so well recognized that an annual appropriation is made by congress for their maintenance. The reward is in "cat meat," which costs about $125 a year.

'TIS SUGAR, NOT SAND, THAT MAKES COURAGE, SO SAY THE BOTTLERS WHO MAKE SODA FOR THIRSTY TO DRINK

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—The time-honored usage of "sand" as a synonym of courage is all wrong—'tis sugar that makes heroes.

To be called a "sweet thing" is a compliment rather than a term of derision to excite masculine resentment, scientists now tell us. For the sweetest are the bravest, they say, or words to that effect. Anyway they are quite certain, and have proved by tests, that it is the amount of sugar in your blood that makes the measure of your courage. And here's the reason as told to the American Chemical Society by Dr. Edwin E. Slosson, of Washington, D. C., a noted scientist:

"A variation of a few hundredths of one per cent in the glucose of the blood may make the difference between cowardice and courage, may determine whether a man shall be shot as a slacker or medaled as a hero. Courage is not a matter of 'sand,' but of sugar. In the excitement of combat the secretion of adrenalin is stimulated and this causes more sugar to be released to the blood and so strengthens a man's valor and endows him with greater strength."

And the synonym for fear? 'Tis "insulin." Dr. Slosson declares that diabetic patients taking insulin tell him the first effect of an overdose is "the feeling of a formless fear, a vague apprehension, a sense of futility and failure, a shiver of anxiety." Their courage, he says, can be quickly restored by food containing sugar, such as bottled carbonated beverages.

Speaking of bottled carbonated beverages, which have high sugar content in the most easily assimilated form, Dr. Slosson says:

"The food value of these beverages comes from their sugar content. The ordinary half-pint bottle contains usually about 4 to 9 of an ounce of sugar, about two heaped teaspoonsful per drink. This gives between 43 and 103 calories of energy, generally about 70 to 80 calories per half-pint."

Besides the water and sugar you get with every pint some three pints of carbon dioxide gas—if you drink it quickly enough. The expansion of this also cools you off.

"The nutritive value of the soft drinks is higher than that of most fruits and vegetables for the same weight. Soda water has about the same energy food value as buttermilk and three times as much as water-melon."

So there we have the passing of another popular fallacy which held the consumption of soft drinks as evidence of pusillanimity. If you feel your courage ebbing you know the cause and the remedy is obvious.

Charter Lived Century

The Montgomery charter, given to the city of New York by John Montgomery, the governor general of New York and New Jersey under King George II, and dated January 15, 1780, continued in force until 1830.

Maine's Odd Coast Line

If the coast line of "hundred-harored Maine" were regular it would be about 200 miles long. Owing to the sinuosities of its contour, the actual coast line is nearly 3,000 miles in length.

Times Have Changed

An advertisement appearing in June, 1820, in the Columbian Sentinel, a semi-weekly newspaper of Boston, quotes milk at 4½ cents a quart, butter 10 cents a pound and a whole quarter of lamb for 25 cents.

Sets Colors Permanently

To set the color in any cotton material, add a handful of salt and a tablespoonful of turpentine to the quarters of a pail of hot water. Soak in and allow to remain in water is cold. This should set the colors permanently so that neither sun nor washing will fade them afterward.—Washington Star.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

LONDON'S IDEA OF LEGION BASEBALL

A recent baseball game played by members of the London post of the American Legion brought forth the following comment in the London Daily Herald:

"That the American Legion should have chosen the Chicago football ground for their baseball rendezvous reflects their sense of propriety. The game should be called 'glorified rounders.' One cannot wonder why the adjectives 'ferocious' and 'brawny' are so popular in the American vocabulary after witnessing a ball game."

"To the uninitiated the most unfortunate man on the field seems to be the club-swinging. He goes in carrying a club not unlike a pick handle. No sooner has he taken up his position than the 'catcher' behind him, feeling comparatively safe in a mask and breast-protector, tells him what a bloody, decomposed player he is, and the 'pitcher' who delivers the ball, being well out of reach of the club, keeps up a continual stream of unkind remarks, at the same time executing a kind of war dance, and ends by slugging the ball at the club-swinging as hard as he can throw it."

"Then the spectators join in. Should the club-swinging slug the ball out of the grounds and run round the three bases, all his sins are forgiven and he is a 'sure-go-getter,' but should he miss the ball altogether he is a 'wall-eyed mutt,' and advised to borrow a door or get a pair of 'horn-rims.' This unfortunate club-swinging has many ways of escape. He can be thrown out, run out, caught stealing or talked out. Many times the 'pitcher' tries to knock him out by hitting him with the ball."

"The 'top-notch' club-swingers in America are reported to draw salaries equaling those of English cabinet ministers. This may be due to the cost of life insurance premiums."

Trust Fund to Care for Legionnaires When Old

Against the day of forgetfulness, the American Legion of Minneapolis is making preparation. Against the time when the Legionnaires are old and few and intervening years and events have crowded out of the public mind the service of 1917-18, the Hennepin county central committee is proposing to set up a $300,000 trust fund. For the aged Legionnaires of the future who may have suffered "the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune" and must turn to a new Minneapolis that does not know them, the young Legionnaires of today propose to make their $18,000 Poppy day trust fund, a nucleus of a much greater foundation.

E. C. Nicholson, commander of the Hennepin county central committee, stated recently that a first campaign for the additional fund may be waged this fall. Only the interest from the Poppy day fund is now usable, and the new fund likewise would be held in trust with only the interest available except in most unusual cases, and then only on a virtually unanimous vote of the Legion.

In the end, when the last Legionnaire had died, the trust fund would go to the Minneapolis foundation.

Coolidge Comments Worker Among Disabled

Mrs. Belle Nye of Albuquerque, N. M., past national historian of the American Legion auxiliary, recently interviewed President Coolidge and General Hines, head of the United States veterans' bureau, in the interest of the disabled service persons of New Mexico. President Coolidge communicated with Mrs. Nye as follows:

"My Dear Mrs. Nye:
I am very glad to learn through the interest of Senator Bursum about the fine work you are doing among the disabled soldiers. I want you to know how keen is my own interest in their behalf and how much I appreciate the efforts of people like yourself, who give so freely and willingly to better their condition.
Most sincerely yours,
"CALVIN COOLIDGE."

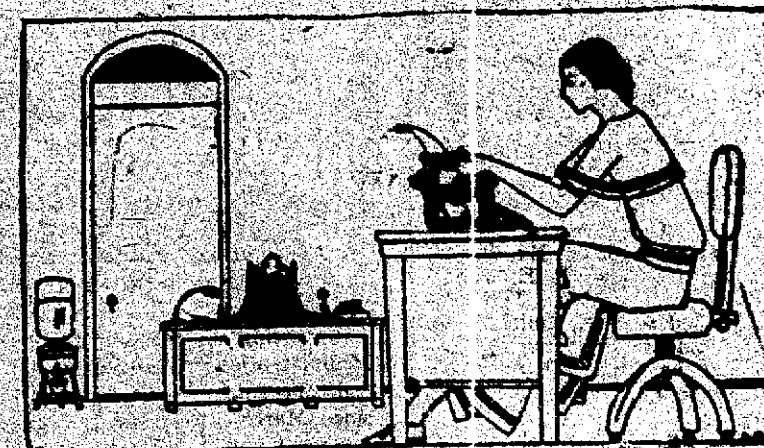

Largest Post in World Does Not Need Charity

Fifty-three more members, and the Omaha post of the American Legion, largest in the world, will have passed the 8,000 mark. The Omaha post recently passed a resolution asking that it not be included in the Omaha Community Chest, funds from which are allotted to various organizations for charitable purposes. Omaha post stated in this regard: "It has been our proud boast that the post has been self-supporting. We have sought members on the basis that each member should 'help carry a buddy's pack.' We should dislike to see the Legion, particularly the largest post in the world, forsake this policy and become dependent upon the Community Chest."

Curwensville's Own Column

At a meeting of the school board the latter part of last week the contract for furnishing coal to the school buildings, four in number, was given out. The bids were for gross, ton, 2220 pounds, there being six bids filed, namely: C. O. Norris & Co., $3.25; Robt. Addelman, $3.04; Ed. Moore, $3; James Lucas, $3.35; P. E. Smith, $3; and R. T. Lantz, $3.00. The contract was awarded to P. E. Smith, he being the only bidder specifying the quality of coal to be furnished, naming coal mined from the Moshannon vein.

Two young men by name of Cramer, hailing from Burgettstown, were Curwensville visitors to Saturday. The Cramer family resided here a number of years ago, the father of the family working in the old James Thompson foundry as a moulder. The boys had never been back to the town since very early boyhood and they were trying to locate some of the old landmarks.

Miss Lucy Spencer, clerk in the Rorabaugh insurance office, was run down Saturday evening while crossing the street. The machine striking her was operated by a young man named Reitz, from Clearfield, who was running with a beginner's license. In trying to avoid running into another car he hit the young lady, not having seen her. He stopped his car and rendered all assistance possible, conveying Miss Spencer to Dr. Blair's office nearby, who pronounced her not seriously injured, other than receiving some bruises and bumps. She was able to be taken home an hour after the accident.

Miss Helen Clark left today for DuBois, where she will enter the business college for the winter term.

Samuel Smith, a son of D. V. Smith, returned from Philadelphia Saturday where he had gone for an operation. He had a bullet removed from his right shoulder that had been there since the young man was wounded in the world war. He also had his tonsils removed. Mr. Smith still carries a second bullet in his body which could not be taken out at this time. He served in Battery B, 10th Field Artillery.

Mrs. O'Dell, mother of Harry O'Dell of Mahaffey, is visiting with her son and his family up in the Nulton section.

Miss Lucy Brennett left Saturday for Potterdale to teach a term of school. Miss Leonore Test also went down the river to Mt. Pleasant, where she will teach this winter.

A. M. Stine, lumberman and saw mill expert, returned on Saturday from a trip near the Virginia line where he spent a week in the interest of his lumber business.

A dispute of right of way on the state highway Saturday evening below the Susquehanna House between a large truck and a Buick resulted in the lighter car coming out second best to an extent that the four occupants had to foot it home several miles above Lumber City, their car being so badly disabled that it refused to do further duty. Each driver accused the other of being in the wrong.

Harrisburg.—When he refused to stop when ordered to do so, Frank Hinkle, 36, was shot through the arm by a policeman and today will face a charge of illegal possession of liquor. Police say Hinkle threw a five-penny jay from his automobile, but they obtained evidence enough to warrant holding him.

Harrisburg.—Four murder cases are listed for trial at the September term of criminal court which opens here Monday. The trial of Dr. Cornelius M. Bailey, prominent physician, charged with murdering Mrs. Anna Manbeck, a widow, will come up at this time.

Hughes Sees No Good Reason For Opening Up Relations With Russia

By H. K. REYNOLDS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Sept. 8.—Secretary of State Hughes sees no immediate possibility for the establishment of amicable relations between the United States and Russia, it was indicated today through the publication of a handbook on foreign relations which he has written for the Presidential campaign.

Reviewing the whole history of the administration's correspondence with and concerning the Soviet government since March, 1921, Hughes said that the most serious objection to dealing with Moscow was the "continued propaganda to overthrow the institutions of this country," and declared that the United States could not enter into negotiations, "until these efforts directed from Moscow are abandoned."

Information in the file of the State Department, Hughes said, conclusively establishes these facts:

"1.—The essential unity of the various Bolshevik organizations known as the Communist party, the so-called Soviet government and the Communist Internationale, all of which are controlled by a small group of individuals technically known as the political bureau of the Russian Communist Party.

"2.—The spiritual and organic connection between this Moscow group and its agent in this country—the American Communist party and its legal counterpart, the Workers' party.

"Not only are these organizations the creation of Moscow," Hughes declared, "but the latter has also elaborated their program and control and supervise their activities.

"While there may have existed in the United States individuals and even groups imbued with Marxist doctrine prior to the advent of the Communist Internationale, the existence of a disciplined party equipped with a program aiming at the overthrow of the institutions of this country by force and violence is due to the intervention of the Bolshevik organizations in the domestic, political life of the United States.

"The essential fact is the existence of an organization in the United States created by, and completely subservient to, a foreign organization striving to overthrow the existing social and political order of this country."

the blame for the first shot on the Kiangsu armies. It accused Tsao Kun of buying the Chinese presidency by bribery and by crushing the neighboring provinces, trampling the whole nation under foot.

Apparently realizing that this war is now a showdown for the control of all China, the opposing armies at Huangtu and Linhu are engaged in the bitterest fighting thus far reported from the front near Shanghai.

The Kiang forces have started a drive from Tsing-Pu eastward toward Lake Tai-Hu, with the object of capturing Sung-Kiang, cutting the line of communication between Shanghai and Hang-Chow. Each side is reported to have 35,000 troops in this sector, where it is expected the sharpest struggle will occur.

Scalpers Will Lose Out in Endeavor to Profit

After the passage of the adjusted compensation bill recently, came rumors that "scalpers" were attempting to buy up for cash at large discounts the adjusted compensation certificates of World War veterans. Such "purchases" by scalpers will be met by drastic action on the part of the veterans' bureau, and will result in the scalper finding himself with only "a scrap of paper," was the declaration of Gen. Frank Hines, director of the veterans' bureau, to representatives of the American Legion.

Attention of the veterans' bureau was called to an advertisement in which a veteran offered to sell his certificate "to the highest cash bidder." Bureau officials were also advised of reports that a huge financial pool is being organized for the purpose of buying up compensation certificates in the hope of large profits at the expense of the veteran and of the government.

In reply to the above reports, the following telegram was sent by General Hines: "No certificate issued or right conferred under the World War compensation act shall be negotiable or assignable; neither will such certificate or any right conferred serve as security for any loan except as provided in section 502 of the act, which provides for loans from banks under certain conditions. Any other negotiations or assignments are void."

Legion Home Company, New Ohio Institution

The American Legion Home company, of Canaan, Ohio, was recently incorporated at Congress, under the state laws of Ohio and received its charter, in which the following provisions were included: "This corporation is formed for the purpose of promoting, assisting and fostering civic organizations, for the support and advancement of patriotic principles through local and community groups and societies organized for charity, education and recreation." According to a Legion official, the company has $11,000 with which to start the ball rolling on its Community Betterment campaign.

Soldier Peddler Law Is Regarded as Unfair

The so-called "soldier peddler's law" in effect in the state of Minnesota should be repealed, according to a resolution passed by the state legislative committee of the American Legion of Minnesota. The law enables former service men to peddle without a license. The Legion points out that under the law many outsiders have come into the state at various times and competed with local merchants who are paying taxes and who are deserving of the patronage of the consumer. The Legion legislative body also suggested that a law prohibiting aliens from teaching in the grade schools be passed.

CLEARFIELD

Perhaps you've oftentimes heard the expression "They are doing this," or "They are wearing that this year." Did you ever give it enough thought to wonder who "They" might be?

"They" say that we should buy in Clearfield. "They" say we should unite on all community enterprises for the common good—but for heaven's sake, who are "They"?

"They" are ALL the people, and all the people includes yourself. Yes dear reader, you too, have said it would be better if everybody bought their needs in Clearfield, and you might also have added, "But so-and-so buys his or her goods elsewhere, so I will too." Now we ask you, as friend to friend, is that a good excuse? Perhaps Mr. or Mrs. Somebody-else says the same thing and uses you for an excuse. One wrong doing cannot be righted by another wrong doing, neither does the fact that somebody else does their trading elsewhere serve as an excuse for you to do likewise.

In teaching small children we try first to set them an example of right. Many people who have grown up are still children and need the same examples.

ANTS FORGE AHEAD: AMERICAN LEADERS LOSE

New York, Sept. 8 (INS).—The ants were a game and a half in the National League race today as they prepared to meet Brooklyn on their home ground.

Pittsburgh dealt the Yankees a damaging and unexpected blow yesterday defeating the Corsairs in both of a doubleheader.

The pirates are now in third place, the points behind Brooklyn and one half game in the wake of the Giants.

The American League race was unexciting today, as both Washington and New York lost. Detroit continued its winning streak and rose to win two and one half games of Yankees. The Tigers are four one half games behind the Senators, but have an advantage over New York and Washington in that two of their remaining games will be played at home.

BASEBALL DOPE

The Senators failed to hit in the top of the ninth and dropped a game to the Sox, 6 to 2.

The Athletics staged a ninth inning rally while Bob Shawkey was aiming about his World Series ring and the Yankees lost, 2 to 1, giving a chance to cut down Washington's lead.

St. Louis' failure to hit enabled the Cardinals to trim the Cardinals, 2 to 1. St. Louis got an even break by going away with the second game to 4.

The Tigers made it six straight by angling out Cleveland in the eighth, 8 to 7, and advanced to within two and one half games of the Yankees. Cobb led six pitchers to keep the Indians on the reservation.

TRINITY CHURCH ITEMS

Church school had a lively resumption yesterday. Strangers and new members were welcomed. The returned vacation group added to the attendance which touched 257, and the missionary offering came to $30.00 even.

Missionary Superintendent M. D. Powell, Jr., excited both large attention and deep interest in his portrayal of the child labor conditions in America.

At morning worship, with strangers from far and near—far enough—Oregon, Florida, Iowa, and other nearby states and communities in Pennsylvania; with goodly music by chorus in anthem and song, the congregation heard as pithy, pungent preaching as most of the folks cared to listen to. From the 19th Psalm the pastor worked out the manifestation of God in His works to offset crass materialism by the intellectual group and by the practical atheists, who concede God's existence, but frightfully dishonor Him in their wicked oeds, immoral indulgences and their wasteful, worthless social activities that minister to vanity and hateful jealousies. Then came God's revelation in His words, laying a moral basis for life and civilization, which was used as an offset to some of the methods of education, which stress chemistry more than character and mathematics more than manhood. Moral leadership in instructors and heads of institutions is imperatively needed; in a measure more than competency in mental training. During the elaboration of this proposition a silent attention developed tension that only the next proposition relieved. That was the revelation of God in human experience, which was reviewed from psychology, religious consciousness, the hymnology of the Church and the interpretations of workings of divine grace in the human heart, so thoroughly presented by Paul.

This week's events: Monday night, Queen Esther Circle. Wednesday, mid-week congregational meeting, devotional period to missions with offering, followed by Sunday school board meeting. Thursday evening, Women's Foreign Missionary auxiliary, Mrs. S. E. Warner's group in charge; election of officers.

about. The County Commissioners should screen the windows and put on new window shades in place of old ones, and put new oil cloth on the dining room table and provide better ventilation for the dining rooms, and we recommend this to be done. We recommend that a building be provided to house persons having contagious disease. Much of the bedding is worn out and should be replaced. The electric wiring in the barn is loose in many places and is dangerous. This should be fixed. The machinery in the laundry is not safeguarded and should be remedied.

The Jail is in excellent condition, with one exception. The windows of the Jail are not screened with steel screening, and this permits the prisoners to acquire any articles desired and makes a dangerous and very bad condition. For several years Grand Juries have repeatedly recommended that these screens be placed, but nothing has been done. We again recom-

AT HERRIN "KLAN MURDER" INQUEST

There is one bit of testimony presented at the coroner's inquest into the Herrin (Ill.) "klan" murders that probably will not go into the records exactly the way it was given. It concerns Jane Lasater, official stenographer at the inquest. Miss Lasater had to listen to Charles Denham, sitting right across the table from her, accuse her of being present at the rioting in front of Smith's garage. Denham, an admitted klan member, said she was in an automobile occupied by State's Attorney DeLoe, Deputy City Judge E. W. Bowen, and that Deputy Bowen fired at klan members. Miss Lasater's face registered both scorn and amusement as Denham made his charges. Just back of her may be seen a young militiaman, wearing a steel helmet and with bayonet in gun, standing guard during the proceedings.

Respectfully submitted,

Shifting Sands in Alaska

Shifting sands having all the characteristics of the great American desert and constituting a menace to inexperienced travelers, have been discovered in Alaska.

Instead of Getting Busy

A noted author is said to start each day by exclaiming: "Good morning, dear world, I love you." That idea is all right, so long as one doesn't hang around waiting for a response.—Boston Transcript.

Universally Applicable

The safe way to cross the street is to wait for a crowd. But you can say that about adopting a new idea.—The Duluth Herald.

Delayed Action

In England they never show comedies on Saturday night. They are afraid they will start laughing in the churches.—Colorado Dodo.

Recognition Difficult

Heredit is the quality that is showing up when a father says: "I don't know what has got into that boy."—Duluth Herald.

Georgette Dress

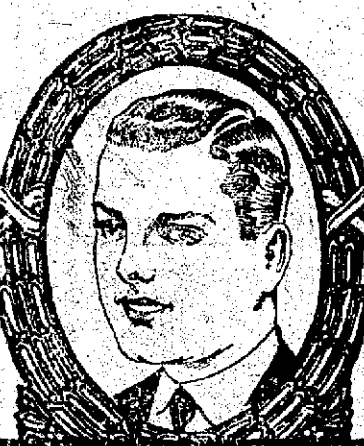

FIGURED chiffons and silks are not to pass out with the summer, as they usually do. They have been so popular they are to be carried over into the winter season. Here we have a figured georgette mounted over a navy blue satin foundation that follows very tailored lines, and can be worn very informally. The collar is of plain crepe and the ruffles at the low waist line are in rose shades.

Like Any Preparedness

A dress suit is like a pistol. If you have one, you keep looking for a chance to use it.—The Duluth Herald.

Safety First

Boatmen (to merry-makers)—I must ask you to pay in advance—as the boat leaks!—Copenhagen Klags Hans.

JAUNTY LITTLE HATS

Underpriced

I am showing some of the jauntiest little hats for in-between wear that I have ever shown and better values cannot be had anywhere.

There are plenty of those little close-fitting turbans and several other styles.

Most places you'd pay $5 or $7.50 for them. I'm selling them at $3.75 and $5.50 in bathroom appointments provide for invisible plumbing. Everything except the mirror is beautifully chaste white. Such a bathroom is a source of pleasure to the family and a matter of pride to the heads of the house. It also adds both distinction and value to the house. We shall be glad to tell you about the cost of such a lavatory and toilet. It is not so great as you may think.
